

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. # GAS THE MODERN INDUSTRIAL FUEL

PROGRESSIVE manufacturers are constantly realizing the exceptional advantages of GAS for fuel.

It is delivered when they want it, and in the exact quantity desired. It requires no labor cost of handling, no storage space, and it obviates soot, dirt and the bother and expense of ash removal.

The service is constant and dependable, day and night, defying storms, blockades and other "tie-ups."

Gas is delivered directly to the appliance, and the expense begins and stops at the turn of a lever.

Let our Industrial Representative show you Gas Appliances designed particularly for the work you are doing. It will pay you to investigate.

INDEX

IMPORTANT NOTICE—The following index to the 1921 Brooklyn Eagle Almanac has been entirely revised and rearranged according to the most up-to-date library and encyclopedic indexing methods. A straight alphabetical arrangement has been followed in order to facilitate quick and easy reference to any subject.

CAUTION—In using this index, disregard such geographical titles as, for example, "Kings County Sheriff" and look only for "Sheriffs," where will be found the page numbers for each of the local county sheriffs offices. Similarly, the "Metropolitan Museum of Art" will be found under "Museums"; the "New York State Canal Board" will be found under "Canal." Likewise, the "United States Department of Agriculture" at Washington will be found under "Agriculture," etc., etc.

SPECIAL NOTICE Regarding Societies and Associations—Owing to the thousands of organizations about which detailed information is contained in the Eagle Almanac, it is obviously impossible to index each under its individual title. For quick reference all these organizations have been grouped or classified under chapter headings according to the general purpose or function of the society. Consult the following list of these chapters for the KIND of organization you are looking for. For example: The "American Seamen's Friend Society" is classified under "Hospitals, Homes and Societies for Relief," and is found with the Manhattan list of those devoted to "Special Relief." Similarly, the "Froebel Society of Brooklyn" is classified in the "Literary Societies" chapter under the Brooklyn list.

WAR BONUSES IN TWELVE STATES.

A soldier bonus of $10 for each month's service in the World War was carried at the New York election by popular referendum. It is estimated that 400,000 ex-service men and women will share in this grant. In Washington and New Jersey similar results were obtained, Washington voting $15 per month for every month of service up to Armistice Day and New Jersey granting her returned soldiers $10 per month, with a maximum of $100. New York's maximum is $250. With the three States just mentioned, the list of States which have voted cash bonuses to their returned soldiers numbers twelve, namely: Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, North Dakota, South Dakota and Maine. These, North Dakota, which pays her fighting sons and daughters $25 for each month of service, without setting a limit, is the most liberal.

Twenty-two nations on Dec. 20, 1920, signed a protocol giving executive approval to the Hague plan for an International Court of Justice. Portugal, Switzerland, Denmark and Salvador also agree to compulsory arbitration.

WORLD'S LARGEST WOODEN DRY DOCK.

The largest wooden sectional dry dock in the world has been constructed by the Morse Dry Dock and Repair Company of Brooklyn. It is built in sections, each complete with separate pumping plant, and in such a manner that a 15,000-ton vessel, 475 ft. long, can be raised by three sections, the whole of the six sections being able to accommodate vessels of 725 ft. in length and 30,000 tons burden. Its first great task was to raise the 630-ft. steamer Minnesota clear of the water, which it did in twenty-five minutes.

The 1920 annual report of the Commissioner-General of Immigration shows that in the past year 90,025 aliens were admitted to the United States from Canada and 52,361 from Mexico, which breaks all records for immigration from those countries.

Cambridge University, England, by a vote of 904 to 712, on Dec. 8, 1920, refused women full membership in the university on equal terms with men. Most of the other English universities, including Oxford, have granted full membership to women.

THE BROOKLYN EAGLE ALMANAC.

VOLUME XXXVI.*JANUARY, 1921.

---

THE 1921 EAGLE ALMANAC AND ITS FEATURES

THE current year marks the thirty-sixth anniversary of THE EAGLE ALMANAC, and the eightieth anniversary of THE BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE. Four score years ago, when the United States was still a fledgling among the nations and Brooklyn little more than a country town the first EAGLE was issued. Its beginnings were humble, but the sturdy character and good business judgment of its founder, Isaac Van Anden, and the manner in which his nephew, Colonel William Hester, and his associates, have carried forward the splendid Van Anden traditions for the past sixty years, have developed THE EAGLE into one of the great newspapers of America and of the world.

THE EAGLE ALMANAC expresses THE EAGLE's desire to record in more compact and permanent form than that of a daily newspaper the chronicle of the year's events. These are times of change and transition. The World War has been over for more than two years, but real peace has not yet come. Men and parties, governments and policies, are shifting and changing rapidly and constantly. It is difficult to follow the day's events. In such a time the complete records provided in the pages of this ALMANAC are of particular value.

During the past year the United States has experienced one of her quadrennial national political campaigns. This issue of THE EAGLE ALMANAC records the facts of that campaign and of the biennial election of Governor and other officials of the State. The tabulation of the election results is complete and of itself gives this issue permanent historic value. The tables are as accurate as careful checking and rechecking can make them. THE EAGLE ALMANAC is proud of its record for accuracy, a record which it has developed with the help of its readers. As always the ALMANAC Editor will appreciate your calling his attention to any errors you may discover in the issue, even though they relate to minor matters. The fourteenth census of the United States was taken in 1920. Some remarkable growths have been shown during the last ten years and the figures published in THE ALMANAC show many changes in the rank of the larger cities.

Striking examples of THE EAGLE spirit and enterprise were exemplified in several instances in 1920. On the invitation of Franklin K. Lane, then Secretary of the Interior, THE BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE Grand Canyon National Park Dedication Tour was organized. With the Canyon dedication as the central feature the month's tour, from April 8 to May 8, included practically all the beauties and wonders and historic points of interest in the Southwest and California. In 1919, an EAGLE Excursion party inaugurated a 1,600 miles motor tour through National Parks, and this followed the 1915 EAGLE Excursion to the San Francisco Fair.

THE EAGLE raised a fund for the decoration of Brooklyn graves in France on Memorial Day under the supervision of the Paris Bureau. The extensive plans of the American Legion along this same line caused the bureau to include the photography as well as the laying of flowers upon the graves, the photographs being sent to the relations of the soldiers through the Index department. Cemeteries in Flanders and from Calais to Verdun in the north of France were visited during a period from May 29 to August 30, 1920.

THE EAGLE's fifth annual Current Events Bee, held in the auditorium of the Manual Training High School on March 19, 1920, was one of the most spirited and closely contested of any so far held.

Popular features of EAGLE work are THE EAGLE Current Events Talks, held each Tuesday during the winter months in the Auditorium of the EAGLE Building.

THE EAGLE INFORMATION BUREAU continued during the year with work of rendering valuable aid to the public. It also published a Summer Resort Guide, a Winter Resort Guide and an Educational Directory.

During the past year THE ALMANAC AND LIBRARY DEPARTMENT has issued the following important publications: Code of Ordinances of the City of New York; The Rent Relief Bills; Long Island Auto Guide; The Code of Criminal Procedure; The Penal Law; National Parties and Platforms; The Charter of the City of New York; and The Code of Civil Procedure. The issue of these documents in convenient and inexpensive form is of great help to many people. At the present high price of composition and paper not all of these publications pay their way, but their publications has frequently been characterized as a public service.

BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY

The letters and numbers following names indicate position of the thoroughfare on the map in pocket of the Almanac.

Note that in case of long thoroughfares, important cross streets with corner numbers are given. A * placed in the right or left column of figures denotes that the thoroughfare does not extend to that side. For railroad connections, etc., consult the map.

BOROUGH OF BRONX STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY

The following resolution, adopted by the Board of Aldermen March 21, 1882, and approved by the Mayor March 23, 1882, will explain the plan of numbering the streets north of Harlem River: That Willis Avenue be numbered, commencing at the Harlem River, and that said numbering run continuously through Willis, Melrose and Webster avenues. That all other avenues in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards, having a generally northerly and southerly direction, be given the same number at the cross street nearest their southern terminus as that on Willis, Melrose, and Webster avenues at the intersection of said cross street, and then numbered accordingly.

The prefix West is given to all cross streets in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards lying west of Jerome av., which runs from Harlem River at Macomb's Dam Bridge to City line, and that the prefix East is given to all cross streets lying east of said avenue and the Harlem River.

The letters and numbers following names indicate position of the thoroughfare on the map in pocket of Almanac.

ASTRONOMICAL CALCULATIONS FOR 1921.

By B. Hart Wright, Deland, Fla.

The year 1921 corresponds to the following eras: The 145-6th year of Independence of the U. S. of America; the year 5681-82 of the Jewish era; the year 5682 begins at sunset, Oct. 2; the year 8030 of the Greek Church, beginning Jan. 14, which is the new style reckoning for Jan. 1. This difference of 13 days will continue until Feb. 29, 2100; the Mohammedan era, 1339-40, the year 1340, beginning Sept. 3. Jan. 1 is the 2,422,691st day since the beginning of the Julian Period.

STORY OF OUR WORLD FAMILY FOR 1921.

THE SUN—During the solar eclipse of May 29, 1919, it was discovered that such stars as were rendered photographically visible by the eclipse were not in their proper place, as shown by night photographs, taken when far from solar influences. This supports the theory of Dr. Einstein, of the materiality and rigidity of the so-called interstellar ether, proving light is subject to gravitational laws, contrary to all previous concepts, and necessitating the remaking of the laws of the universe. Twice within the year the light of the Sun will be intercepted by the intervention of the Moon. See eclipses. Very unusual and astounding activities in the luminous solar envelope were witnessed in 1918-19. The very unusually great and marvelously beautiful auroral displays have proven a relationship, which, conjointly with distinct terrestrial disturbing factors, makes the solterreneous storm period conditions. The larger of the great Sun spots may be easily seen through a smoked glass or by throwing the Sun's image on a screen in a darkened room. Note their change in form as they draw near or recede from the Sun's center, due to the Sun's convexity.

MERCURY, being so near the Sun, can only be seen when near certain of the points of greatest angular distance from the Sun and, like him, must be uninhabitable to any and all forms of life. These conditions may not be widely different from those upon the Earth during and prior to the igneous period of the Earth's geologic history, while yet the waters were unformed, existing in gaseous or elemental stage. The primeval rain, which washed our heavy laden atmosphere and prepared it for ministering to human comfort, has not yet come to those bodies, within the orbit of the Earth and younger than we are by countless ages. (See under "The Planets" for times of visibility of Mercury.)

VENUS, our interior and younger neighbor, may be in that stage of evolution corresponding to the time when our fossiliferous rocks were being formed, and her atmosphere, being still dense with impurities, reflects a large portion of the light received from the Sun. This causes her dazzling brilliancy. It is not improbable that such forms of life as characterized our similar stage of Earth evolution may exist there. Inasmuch as she receives about twice the amount of light and heat that we do, this evolutionary process may be much further advanced than was the case with the Earth at her age. She will be at her brightest possible phase in March, as an Evening Star, and in May as a Morning Star, being invisible in April, when between us and the Sun, after which she will remain a Morning Star to the end of the year, when she will be close to the Sun and, therefore, dim. Venus is a rapid traveler and her itinerary for the year will be as follows. At the beginning of the year Venus will be in Capricornus, a few degrees west of the Y of Aquarius; on the 9th she will be in Aquarius, east of the Y and 41° S. of Uranus and 5° S. of the Moon on the 13th; crosses the prime meridian of the heavens on the 2d-3d of February and in line with the east side of the Square of Pegasus, a few degrees N. of her. Her greatest distance east of the Sun, 47°, will be reached Feb. 10, and she will be occulted by the Moon Feb. 11, but she will have set here at that time, being at setting almost merged into the Moon. March 10 she will be just S. of the principal bright stars in Aries, Hamel and Sheratan; becomes stationary March 31, when west of the Pleiades and then retrogrades or goes back westward until May 11 to where she was March 1 near the stars in the horn of the Ram, having passed her point of greatest brilliancy March 17 and 7° to the north of Mars April 4 and 8° N. of Moon April 8, becoming dim April 10; invisible April 19-25, during which time she passes to the west of the Sun, becoming a Morning Star, rapidly increasing in brightness until the latter part of May; reaches the Pleiades and greatest distance west of the Sun July 1, having passed her stationary point on May 14, after which she again goes forward to her point of greatest brilliancy as a Morning Star when just south of the bright stars in the horn of the Ram again. She reaches the Hyades the middle of July and passes 3° N. of Aldebaran July 17. She will be 2° N. of the Moon July 31, when about midway between Sirius and Capella, and about Aug. 24-30 between Procyon on the S. and Castor and Pollux on the N., being 4° N. of the Moon on the 30th. On Sept. 13 she will be 5° N. of Neptune, just below the point of the Sickle, and on the 24th passes less than one-half of 1 degree N. of the brilliant Regulus (see Chart of the Heavens) in the end of the handle of the Sickle, and 5° N. of the Moon on the 28th. On Oct. 3 11' S. of Mars, so close as to almost merge their light as they brighten the glorious morning light of autumn close to the E. horizon, and on the 22d of Oct. she will pass about one-half of 1 degree N. of Jupiter with the brilliant Denebola about 5° N. and W. of her; 2° N. of Moon on Oct. 29 and 1° S. of Moon Nov. 28. She will pass about 4° N. of Spica Virginis Nov. 6 and 4° S. of the Moon Dec. 28, when close to the Sun and dim, being close to her most distant point from us attainable.

MARS will not be a conspicuous object at all during the year, being a fairly bright Evening Star at the first; dim in May, invisible in June-July, dim in Aug. as a Morning Star and slightly brighter at the end of the year than at its beginning. The big telescopes tell us when snow, frost and freezing take place with the Martians and doubtless their bold airmen, if able to reach the Earth, would consider us pigmies of stature and attainments. At the beginning of the year Mars will be in almost the same position as Venus and they will be less than one-half of a degree apart on the 9th, Mars being the most northern, and also only 15' S. of Uranus (see under Uranus); passes 5° S. of the Moon Jan. 13, becoming quite dim in April, when he will be passing the Pleiades. About the middle of Sept., when fairly bright in the eastern morning sky, he will be seen only about 1° N. of Regulus, making a glorious pair; 53' S. of Saturn Nov. 14 and only 10' N. of Jupiter Nov. 26, all splendid combinations, especially the last, when they will almost appear as one; 3° N. of Spica Dec. 11.

JUPITER and SATURN will share with Venus a large part of the glories of the evening western sky for the first three months and, in fact, Jupiter and Saturn are so close throughout the year that we need to do is to state that the former is the brightest and farther west by about 5 or 6 degrees at the first and gradually approaching until they are in conjunction on Sept. 14, when both will be too near the Sun to be seen. Towards the end of the year, when they are again bright as Morning Stars, Jupiter will be the most eastern by a little greater lead than Saturn had at the beginning of the year. This conjunction of the two major members of our family is an unusual event and will attract much attention, more especially as Mars is in the bunch also (see under Mars), and also Venus and the Moon from Oct. 22 to 29 in the edge of the morning twilight as follows: Venus, 35' S. of Saturn Oct. 22 and 31' N. of Jupiter Oct. 25, Saturn 34', Jupiter 2° and Mars 3° N. of Moon Oct. 28, and Venus 2° N. on the 29th. Then again Nov. 25-28 all will be bunched and lastly Dec. 22-28 all will be within the last half of Leo and the first half of Virgo. Note how the respective distances of the planets from the Sun for even dates compare. Both planets will be invisible in Sept. and dim in Aug. and Oct. The rings of Saturn will be invisible this year because edgewise to the Earth.

URANUS will be most favorably situated for observation in August and September, but unless one has an instrument and knowledge of adjustments it will be useless to look for him and the same is true of Neptune, whose most favorable position will be in January and February.

METEORS—The great meteorite or aerolite which dropped into Lake Michigan with such great disturbance of all electro-magnetic conditions over a very great area, was probably one of the greatest foreign bodies ever come to Earth. It is unfortunate it can never be studied by man, but it is from the same source as all others, and probably did not differ from the Com. Peary specimen from Greenland at the door of the American Museum of Natural History, on Central Park West, New York City. All come from an orbit which lies between Mars and Jupiter, but so very eccentric that it extends far out beyond the outermost members of our system.

EAGLE CURRENT EVENTS BEE.

Samuel Levine, Jr., a 19-year-old student of the Bushwick H. S., who came to this country from Russia only six years ago, won The Eagle's fifth annual Current Events Bee, held in the auditorium of the Manual Training H. S., on March 19, 1920. Second honors were captured by Irving Cyrill of the Brooklyn Evening H. S., which competed for the first time this year. The Bee, one of the most spirited and closely contested of any so far held, began with a concert by the Musical Art Society of Manual Training H. S., and, after the singing of "America" by the audience and contestants, Herbert F. Gunnison, publisher of The Eagle, presented $5 gold pieces to the students of the 17 different schools who were winners in the contests for the best lists of questions on current topics, and the bronze medals to the school champions. H. V. Kaltenborn, assistant managing editor of The Eagle, was interrogator, and the judges were Judge Frederick E. Crane, the Rev. Joseph V. S. McClancy, superintendent of Catholic schools in Brooklyn, and Meier Steinbrink, attorney

Electrical Units Defined.

Ohm—Unit of resistance; represents resistance offered to an unvarying electric current by a column of mercury at the temperature of ice, 14.5421 grams in mass, of a cross-sectional area
of 1.00003 sq. millimeters and of the length of 106.3 centimeters.

Ampere—Unit of current; decomposes .0009324
of a gram of water in 1 second or deposits silver at the rate of .001118 of a gram per sec. when passed through a solution of nitrate of silver in water.

Volt—Unit of electro motive force; 1 volt equals 1 ampere of current passing through a substance having 1 ohm of resistance.

Coulomb—Unit of quantity; amount of electricity transferred by a current of 1 ampere in 1 sec.

Farad—Unit of capacity; capacity of a condenser charged to a potential of 1 volt by 1 coulomb. A microfarad is one millionth of a farad.

Joule—Unit of work; equivalent to energy expended in 1 sec. by 1 ampere current in 1 ohm resistance.

Watt—Unit of power; equivalent to work done at the rate of 1 joule per sec. A kilowatt is 1,000 watts.

JAPANESE POPULATION OF HAWAII.

The Japanese population of Hawaii is announced by the Census Bureau as 109,269 out of a total population of 255,512. The Japanese constitute 42.7 per cent. of the 1920 population of the islands. The actual increase of Japanese on the island during the last decade was 29,594, or 37.1 per cent., as against a percentage gain of 30.4 per cent. made during the ten years, 1900-10. Figures on the sex of the Japanese population in 1920, as compared with 1910 and 1900, show a much larger increase in the number of women and girls than in the number of men and boys. The female portion of the population amounted to 23.3 per cent. in 1900, as compared with 42.7 per cent. in 1920.

AREA, POPULATION AND DENSITY OF BOROUGHES.

The determination of an exact area of New York City and its boroughs is a debatable matter. This is due to the irregular waterfront lines and the existence of considerable areas under water, marsh lands, or meadow lands, which different surveyors compute differently. Some base their figures within pierhead lines, others within bulkhead lines and still others within borough lines. No official figures exist for the exact areas of the boroughs. With regard to Mtn. Boro., the total acreage figures given below is approximately correct. There has been considerable filling in on the smaller islands, the area of which has not been computed. The Eagle Almanac gives below the areas of the Assembly Districts, as apportioned by the 1917 Legislature (see index for boundaries), computed by the topographical bureaus of each borough; also the areas computed by wards by the Health Department. The discrepancies are explained above. The Eagle Almanac gives the preference to the Topographical Bureau figures, as same are computed for the official use of each Borough President's office.

BROOKLYN BOTANIC GARDEN.

The Bkin. Botanic Garden, located bet. Eastern P'kway and Empire Blvd. and Flatbush and Washington avs., was opened to the public on Linnaeus's birthday, May 13, 1911. The garden comprises about 50 acres of land, on which are located the various plantations, the conservatories and the laboratory building. The object of the garden is the advancement and diffusion of a knowledge and love of plants, and its special aim is to be of service to the local community.

The grounds are open free to the public daily at 8 A.M., except Sundays and holidays, when they open at 10 A.M. There is a graded membership, the dues of annual members being $10 a year. Special privileges are offered to members.

A Bureau of Information is maintained concerning all matters of plant life and gardening, the determination of specimens, care of lawns and gardens, trees and shrubs, insect pests and plant diseases. This service is free to the public. The Native Wild Flower Garden contains about 900 species that grow without cultivation within 100 miles of New York City; the Rock Garden contains over 600 species of Alpine and other rock-loving plants; the Japanese Garden has been pronounced the most perfect specimen of that kind of garden in any public park in America; the general Systematic Garden, chiefly of European herbs and shrubs, occupies the central portion of the grounds; the Ecological Garden illustrates the relation of plants to various factors of environment, such as water, light, gravity, insects, etc. The Iris Garden extends along the brook and the Children's Gardens, containing over 250 individual plots, are at the south end of the grounds. A library of over 10,000 books and pamphlets on plant life and gardening is open free to the public, and also the herbarium of over 150,000 specimens. Illustrated lectures and occasional exhibits are also open free. The conservatories contain a collection of tropical and sub-tropical plants, including those used for food, fiber and other economic purposes, including banana, sugar-cane, tea, coffee, rubber, hemp, papyrus, figs, citrus fruits, etc.

The buildings, costing over $280,000, were erected at the joint expense of the city and the Board of Trustees of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, of which the Botanic Garden is a department. The Japanese Garden was constructed and is maintained wholly at private expense, and the library, herbarium and all plants on the grounds and in the conservatories are obtained by private funds.

Reached by Flatbush av. trolley from Park Row by B. R. T. subway (Brighton Beach Line) to Prospect Pk. Sta., where transfer for Botanic Garden El. Sta., by Interborough subway to Brooklyn Museum Sta. (Eastern P'kway Line), and by most surface lines in Brooklyn. Prospectus of courses and booklet of information free by addressing the secretary. The director of the garden is Dr. C. Stuart Gager.

Grand Boulevard and Concourse.

The Concourse, under the jurisdiction of the Borough of The Bronx, is designed to provide connection bet. Mhtn. and the park system in the northern and eastern portions of The Bronx. The estimated cost of the work of construction was $1,052,153, and the actual cost at contract price, $1,139,748.79. The contract was let Aug. 20, 1902, the lowest bid being $1,011,322. ## CAPITAL PUNISHMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

Capital punishment prevails in all of the States of the Union, except Arizona, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Washington and Wisconsin. In Michigan the only crime punishable by death is treason. The death penalty was abolished in the State of Washington in 1913. It was abolished in Iowa in 1872 and restored in 1878. It was also abolished in Colorado in 1897, but was restored in 1901. Hanging is the ordinary mode of execution, but in Arkansas, Indiana, Massachusetts, New York, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Virginia and Oklahoma electrocution is the legal method. In Nevada hanging or shooting is optional with the condemned.

CIVIL SERVICE INFORMATION.

FEDERAL.

Officers—Three commissioners are appointed by the President to assist him in preparing suitable rules for carrying the civil service act into effect and in enforcing the law and the rules.

General Rules—The fundamental principles governing appointments to Federal civil positions are found in the civil service act itself. The present rules were approved March 20, 1903, and went into effect April 15, 1903. They have since been revised in part from time to time. The classified service includes all officers and employees in the executive civil service of the United States except mere unskilled laborers, persons whose appointments are subject to confirmation by the Senate and certain persons whose positions are exempted from the operation of the civil service act under the terms of the laws creating the positions.

Examinations—These are conducted by boards of examiners chosen from among persons in Government employ and are held as frequently as the needs of the service require in all the States and Territories, at convenient places.

Qualifications of Applicants—The Commission is authorized to exclude from any examination a person who is not a citizen of or who does not owe allegiance to the United States; who does not come within the age limitations prescribed; who is physically disqualified for the service which he seeks; who is addicted to the habitual use of alcoholic beverages to excess or to the use of opium, morphine or other narcotic drugs; who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency or misconduct; who has made a false statement in his application or has been guilty of fraud or deceit in any manner connected with his application or examination, or has been guilty of crime or infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; who has been dishonorably discharged from the United States Army, Navy or Marine Corps, or who is otherwise unfit, in the opinion of the Commission, for the position sought.

STATE INSTITUTE OF APPLIED AGRICULTURE ON L. I. FARMINGDALE, N. Y.

The object of the State Inst. of Applied Agriculture is to open the road to successful farming to the boys and girls and men and women of N. Y. C., L. I., and the neighboring sections of the State.

The courses are designed with particular reference to the needs of people who have had little or no farm experience. Carefully planned practical work is combined with the study of the underlying principles of scientific agriculture. Classes continue throughout the 12 months of the year, and the students follow the complete cycle of agricultural production from the preparation of the ground to the harvesting of the crop. The course of study, while progressive, leading from one subject to another in logical order, is so arranged as to fit the student in a minimum amount of time to do actual farm work. The Institute Farm of 300 acres is the students' main laboratory.

The admission requirement for the regular 3-years' course is a year of high school training or its equivalent. Persons who have the equivalent of a grammar school education may be admitted to a preparatory course of one year, on completion of which they are eligible for the regular course. Tuition is free to residents of N. Y. State, and there are no laboratory fees.

Short courses especially adapted for school teachers are given during July and Aug. Special courses for farmers are given during Dec., Jan. and Feb. Special courses made up of subjects selected from the regular courses may be arranged to meet the needs and qualifications of mature people.

There must be a drawing made with India ink alone, on pure white paper, the thickness of three sheets of Bristol board, and containing a calendered and smooth surface. All drawings must be made with pen only and every line and letter, signature and shading must be absolutely black. The size of the sheet must be exactly 10x15 inches, and there must be an inch margin on each side, leaving the "right" exactly 8x13 inches. When the view is longer than the width of the sheet, it may be turned on its side, while the signature of the inventor must be placed at the lower right hand corner, but, in no instance, shall they encroach upon the drawing.

Caveats—Law repealed in 1910.

TRADE MARKS.

A trade mark may be registered by any person, firm or corporation in the U. S. or located in any foreign country which, by treaty, convention or law, affords similar privileges to citizens of the U. S., and who is entitled to the exclusive use of any trade mark and uses the same in commerce with foreign nations or among the several States, or with Indian tribes.

On filing an application for registration of a trade mark, $10 must be paid. If the applicant be a corporation, it must be specified under the laws of what State or nation incorporated.

One hundred and forty-nine persons are killed by accident in the United States each day, according to statistics compiled by the National Safety Council.

VOLCANOES AND EARTHQUAKES

Prepared by the National Geographic Society of Washington, D. C. Gilbert Grosvenor, President.

Studies of the volcanic phenomena in the Mt. Katmai region, Alaska, made by the expedition under Robert F. Griggs for the National Geographic Society, have shown that where the lava rose in the throat of Katmai in the great eruption of 1912, it had a temperature of less than 1,000 degrees Centigrade. The lava stood in this position until it had melted about a cubic mile of the rock of the old mountain, and then exploded with terrific violence. The source of these vast accessions of energy has not yet been accounted for.

Saltion Sink, in the Imperial Valley, California, which has for many years been an area of mud volcanoes emitting steam and sulphurous gases, the roar of whose vents can be heard for miles, is gradually drying up. The lake, which is about eighteen miles long, nine miles wide and 169 feet below sea level, is said to be retreating at the rate of a mile a year. The salt-encrusted land thus left is being rapidly seized by homesteaders. Geologists estimate that the area has changed from sea to desert and back again to sea fifty times or more during its history.

The United States Weather Bureau records show that there were 101 earthquake shocks strong enough to be felt by persons during 1919. More than 4,500 correspondents in various parts of the country are recording such quakes and sending in full accounts to the Bureau.

One of the heaviest quakes felt in years in Juneau, Alaska, shook buildings badly on December 14, 1919. Katmai volcano, near Kodiak, Alaska, is believed to have been the place about which the shocks centered.

A series of severe earthquake shocks beginning on January 3, was felt in the entire region around Vera Cruz, Mexico, many people having been killed and much property destroyed. The village of San Juan Coscomatepec showed a toll of 30 dead and many buildings demolished; Huatusco an equal number, and Jalapa, fifty victims. In Vera Cruz several people were killed and much property was destroyed, and the villages of Teocelo and Coutatlan were virtually destroyed. The course of the San Francisco River was changed, waterfalls in the city of Vera Cruz were broken and thousands of trees in a forest twenty-five miles from the city were uprooted. Though clearly tectonic, and not characteristic of volcanic earthquakes, the center of this one seemed to be in the neighborhood of Mt. Orizaba. The small and apparently extinct volcano Cero de San Miguel, near Cordoba, also erupted, bursting in twain. The new crater threw out smoke, ashes and flame, and a lava stream 200 yards wide which resulted in about 200 deaths.

On January 31 and February 1, 1920, an earthquake in the State of Minas Geraes, Brazil, of an intensity without precedent in that region shook down a number of houses and created a panic among the inhabitants, who say the rumblings sounded as if they were produced by the explosion of tons of dynamite or the breaking of enormous quantities of rocks far within the interior of the earth. Since this disturbance the National Observatory of Rio de Janeiro has decided to install a seismograph in the State of Minas Geraes, another in the State of Rio Grande do Sul at Porto Alegre and a third in the State of Matto Grosso at Cuyaba.

Widespread disaster was caused in the Province of Emilia and the Apennine Mountains to the west by a violent earthquake coming at 7:55 on September 7, followed by minor earth tremors for several days. In Fivizzano, nearly all the houses were shaken down and 432 persons were killed. As a result of the 300 subterranean concussions on that date, more than a hundred towns and villages, particularly those in the vicinity of the marble quarries at Carrara, were badly damaged and some were completely demolished, rendering ten thousand people homeless. Pizzo d'Uccello, a mountain near Spezia, burst into active volcanic eruption and avalanches were started in the Swiss Alps as results of the violence of the quake. This volcano threw out enormous columns of thick dark smoke in an umbrella-shaped cloud from its crater, and all the wells and streams near the mountain were impregnated with sulphur.

A severe earthquake, with the town of Yunlin as its center, which damaged buildings and caused some deaths, occurred throughout Formosa on June 5.

Grakali and other villages within a radius of sixty miles west of Tiflis were shaken by an earthquake which killed several hundred persons and made thousands of others homeless.

A new volcanic field in the Bayuda Desert, half-way between Merowe and Berber, was discovered by Dr. Chalmers Mitchell on his Trans-African airplane flight. He concludes from his observations that the eruptions were not later than the Kainozoic Age.

Among his important discoveries in the Sahara, Col. J. Tilho recently announced that Emi Kussi in the Tibesti highlands is the largest of a series of extinct volcanoes. Its crater is well formed and there is now a thick deposit of sodium carbonate on the floor.

In December, 1919, the abnormally high lava column of Kilauea collapsed 400 feet, completely changing the appearance of the crater. The fire lakes became molten maelstroms and the floor of the great crater was covered with outpourings of molten lava, as the crags and pinnacles which have for the last two years been prominent on the landscape sank into the depths.

On February 16, French Oceania was swept over by a tidal wave, the greatest losses being on Makalea Island.

Professor Emello Oddone, noted seismologist of Naples, has been in Mexico studying the causes and effects of the earthquakes there. With his new invention, the inervimeter, he has taken measurements of energy and motion of the quakes.

Violent earthquake shocks were reported from Ferrara, Italy, on June 4; from Tuscany in Italy, on June 10; a slight quake from Cannes, in France, on November 29, 1919; from Florence on October 26, 1919, and a severe shock from Rome on September 12, 1919. In the latter quake, houses are reported to have collapsed or to have been badly damaged at Bagni, Asclena, Montorio, Radicofani, Pian Castagnajo, Badia, San Salvatore and Celio.

Two pronounced shocks were reported from Anchorage, Alaska, on June 25, 1920. Though they did no great damage, their efforts extended for one hundred miles north of the city.

Three distinct earthquake shocks were felt throughout the State of Washington and northward through British Columbia on January 24, 1920.

Los Angeles reports a sharp quake on July 15, 1920, the earth tremors being recorded on the seismographs at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., approximately 2,800 miles from the center of greatest disturbance.

Earthquake shocks of considerable intensity were recorded by the Weather Bureau seismographs in Chicago on March 29, though the center of the quake was probably 1,200 miles from the city.

Mount Lassen, the only active volcano in the United States, burst into sputtering eruption on April 3, casting forth great clouds of smoke and ashes in an unusually violent manner.

A slight earthquake, accompanied by a dull rumbling sound, was experienced at Comrie, Scotland, on September 13, 1920.

Giarre, at the base of Mount Etna, on the Island of Sicily, was shaken by a violent earthquake on September 27, 1920. Property was destroyed and many persons were injured in Giarre, where the shock was greatest. The nearby village of Codadivolve was practically demolished.

Crihueta, in Spain, suffered a sharp quake on September 26, 1920.

DIRECT DIPLOMACY WITH CANADA.

A statement read in the Canadian Parliament in Ottawa and formally made public by the British Embassy in Washington, declares the purpose of the British Government to have the King of England appoint a "Canadian Minister to the United States," who shall have office room in the Embassy Building in Washington, shall have direct charge of all negotiations on Canadian affairs, and at times, in the absence of the Empire's Ambassador, shall exercise his powers with reference to all questions.

POLAR EXPLORATIONS

Prepared by the National Geographic Society of Washington, D. C. Gilbert Grosvenor, President.

After having drifted across the waters north of Asia and Europe from Norway since June, 1918, Capt. Roald Amundsen reached Nome, Alaska, during the past summer. Here he secured extra provisions and set sail on August 8 in his ship, the "Maude," especially designed to withstand the pressure of Polar ice, for Wrangel Island. From this point he planned to lock his boat in the ice and drift across the Polar basin. He hopes that the drift will at least take him near enough the North Pole for him to make a dash for it, but he has declared that the chief object of his expedition is to compile scientific data on the Arctic region.

The United States Army Air Service Alaskan Flying Expedition, which made the trip to Nome from Long Island in 112 hours of flying time, secured much data on hitherto uncharted areas among the Canadian glaciers.

The well-known Danish explorer, Knud Rasmussen, returned late in 1919, from Angmagssalik, the largest settlement on the east coast of Greenland. This was the last village visited by him in making his study of the differences between the culture, language and traditions of every tribe and clan in the country. No one has ever before come into such direct personal contact with a whole people as Rasmussen has with the people of Greenland.

Baffin Land, a very rich and alluring field for explorers and scientists, will be the object of an expedition which will set out in the summer of 1921 under Donald B. MacMillan, one of Peary's lieutenants on the expedition that reached the North Pole. During the following winter the coast of Baffin Land will be explored and the next summer the party will attempt to penetrate the interior. Very little is now known about the territory whose whole western shore of perhaps 1,000 miles in length, is but vaguely defined on charts. Its vast lakes and towering mountains are mythical to us, and its flora and fauna have practically never been studied.

The steamer Thor I, of the British Imperial Antarctic Expedition, under the leadership of John L. Cope, bound for the unknown regions around the South Pole, put into Norfolk (Virginia) Harbor on October 25, 1920, for coal. The party will proceed to Deception Island, in the Falkland group, where they will take a smaller steamer and head for Graham Land, the southernmost land known, to explore during the next eighteen months 1,200 miles of absolutely unknown and unexplored territory. The expedition is equipped with airplanes and a wireless apparatus with which they expect to communicate with headquarters in London. It is reported that this two-year survey is preliminary to a five-year expedition which will be inaugurated upon the return of Mr. Cope.

Lange Koch, the young Danish scientist and explorer, set out this summer on a two-year expedition to the region around North Point, Greenland, in order thus to proclaim Danish sovereignty over all of Greenland.

A natural science and geological expedition is being organized by Dr. Olaf Høitvedt, of Christiania University, Norway, to explore the Nova Zembla region, Arctic Russia, and establish a temporary meteorologic station there.

Germany is said to be making extensive preparations for Arctic explorations by airplane, with a principal base on the west coast of Spitzbergen.

A systematic survey of Spitzbergen carried out annually by the Norwegian Government was continued during the past year under Adolf Hoel, extending hydrographic surveys from the northern entrance of Bell Sound to the mouth of Horn Sound, the charts recently published as a result of these expeditions being vast improvements on those heretofore issued.

NATURALIZATION AND QUALIFICATION OF VOTERS.

Under the Federal Statutes, the Bureau of Naturalization, U. S. Dept. of Labor, Washington, D. C., has charge of all matters concerning the naturalization of aliens. The offices of the Chief Naturalization Examiner of that Bureau for the N. Y. Dist. are 3d Floor, No. 1 Beekman, Mhtn.

WHERE TO MAKE APPLICATION—Top floor Brooklyn Post Office Bldg. for residents of Brooklyn, Long Island and Staten Island.
Room 7, Hall of Records, Brooklyn, for residents of Brooklyn.

Room 304, Hall of Records, Mhtn., for residents of Mhtn.

Bronx Co. Court House, 161st and 3d av., for the Bronx.

P. O. Bldg., Mhtn., for Mhtn., Bronx, Columbia and Rockland, Putnam, Orange, Dutchess, Sullivan, Greene, Ulster and Westchester counties, or in Co. Clerk's office in the county in which applicant resides.

CITIZENSHIP—The Federal statutes declare the following persons to be citizens:

All persons born in United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, excluding Indians not taxed.

All persons legally naturalized.

All children born out of jurisdiction of United States, whose fathers are at time of their birth citizens thereof, but the right of citizenship shall not descend to children whose fathers have never resided in the United States.

A child born without the U. S. of alien parents shall be deemed a citizen of the U. S. by virtue of the naturalization of or resumption of Amer. citizenship by the parent, provided that such naturalization or resumption takes place during the minority of such child and that the citizenship of such minor child shall begin at the time such minor child begins to reside permanently in the U. S.

An American woman who marries a foreigner takes the nationality of her husband. At the termination of the marital relation she may resume her American citizenship, if abroad by registering as an American citizen within 1 year with a consul of the U. S., or by returning to reside in the U. S., or if residing in the U. S. by continuing to reside therein.

All persons who were citizens of Hawaii on Aug. 12, 1898, are citizens of the U. S. All citizens of Porto Rico, as defined by Sec. 7 of the Act of April 12, 1900, are declared by the Act of Mar. 2, 1917, to be citizens of the U. S. Filipinos who serve not less than 3 years in the U. S. Navy, and who have declared their intention to become citizens, may be naturalized.

NATURALIZATION—The applicant for citizenship must have resided in the United States for the continued term of at least 5 years next preceding his application, and 1 year within State or Territory where the court is held that admits him. Not less than 2 nor more than 7 years before he files his petition for naturalization he must declare, on oath, before the clerk of any court authorized to naturalize, his intention to become a citizen. Any person over 18 years of age may declare intention. There is a fee of $1 for receiving and filing declaration of intention; of $2 for filing petition, and of $2 for making final order and issuing citizenship certificates, if granted, the whole fee being payable when petition is filed. Blanks for statement of the facts material for first or final papers may be obtained from court clerk or from public evening schools for foreigners or from chief examiner.

The petitioner must be accompanied by at least two witnesses who are citizens of the United States who have known the applicant for at least five years and have known him to be a resident of the United States for five years and of the State or Territory for one year.

Children under the age of 21 at the time of the naturalization of their parents who become residents of the United States during their minority, are considered citizens.

When any naturalized citizen shall have resided 2 years in the foreign state from which he came, or for 5 years in any other foreign state it shall be presumed that he has ceased to be an American citizen and the place of his general abode shall be deemed his place of residence during said years. This presumption may be overcome by registering with an American consul.

NATURALIZATION OF PERSONS WHO HAVE SERVED IN THE ARMY OR NAVY DURING THE WORLD WAR—The Act of Congress, approved May 9, 1918, provides that: "Any alien serving in the military or naval service of the U. S. during the war (World War) may file his petition for naturalization without making the preliminary declaration of intention and without proof of the required five years' residence within the U. S., provided he appears with his two witnesses before the appropriate representative of the Bureau of Naturalization and passes the preliminary examination hereby required before filing his petition for naturalization in the office of the clerk of the court, and any petition for naturalization filed under the provisions of this subdivision may be heard immediately."

Persons of foreign birth who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the European War, after final examination and acceptance by the military or naval authorities, and who have been honorably discharged, may be naturalized in the same manner as those who applied for citizenship while in the service.

NATURALIZATION FORBIDDEN—Only free white persons and persons of African birth or African descent can be naturalized.

QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS—Every person N. Y. State, 21 yrs. old, is entitled to vote if he or she shall be on or before the day of election a citizen of the United States 90 days, a resident of the State 1 year, a resident of the county 4 months, a resident of the election district 30 days. A person otherwise qualified whose birthday is on the day following election is entitled to vote. A minor who has been convicted of felony and has served out his or her term during his or her minority is not entitled to vote when of age.

MILITARY TRAINING IN N. Y. STATE.

The Military Training Commn., consists of the Maj. Gen. commanding the Natl. Guard ex-officio, who is ch., and two other members, one appointed by the Board of Regents of the Univ. of the State and one by the Governor. The terms of the appointed members are 4 years.

Under the terms of Article 1-A of the military law, which is the act creating the Military Training Commn., every boy in the State above the age of 16 years and not over the age of 19 years, except boys exempted by the commn., must receive such military training as the commn. may prescribe for periods aggregating not more than three hours in each week during the school or college year in the case of school boys and for 41 weeks in each year in the case of boys who are not pupils. The training is to be conducted under the supervision of the commn. by male teachers and physical instructors of schools and colleges when assigned by governing bodies and accepted by the commn., by officers and enlisted men of the Natl. Guard and Naval Militia or such officers and enlisted men of the U. S. Army as may be available. In the discretion of the commn. the military training requirement may be met in part by "such vocational training or vocational experience as will, in the opinion of the commn., specifically prepare boys of the ages named for service useful to the State, in the maintenance of defense, in the promotion of public safety, in the conservation and development of the State's resources, or in the construction and maintenance of public improvements."

Within the limits of appropriation the commn. may conduct summer camps for boys subject to military training, attendance at the camps to be voluntary.

The commn. issues to every boy who complies with the requirements of the law a certificate to that effect, which a boy of the ages specified must possess in order to attend school or be employed.

The commn. is also directed to advise and confer with the Board of Regents of the Univ. of the State as to courses of instruction in physical training to be prescribed for elementary and secondary schools as provided in the amendment to the education law, passed at the same session of the Legislature, calling for not less than 20 minutes a day of physical training for all school children over 8 years of age. The commn. is to provide for the observation and inspection of physical training work in the schools.

Armories of the Natl. Guard and Naval Militia when not required for the use of the regular organization, and arms and other equipment of the Natl. Guard and Naval Militia not required at the time, are to be made available to the Military Training Commn. for conducting its work. School authorities are authorized to permit the use of school buildings and grounds for this same purpose.

THE HALL OF FAME.

In March, 1900, the late Chancellor MacCracken of New York University, announced that $250,000 had been given that institution for a Hall of Fame of great Americans. The conditions were that 50 names might be chosen in 1909 and 5 more each succeeding 5 years through the 20th century. 100 electors from all of the 45 States were asked to make nominations and to indicate each one his choice of 50 names. Upon Oct. 1, 1900, it appeared that 97 electors had voted and that 29 names had received a majority of 51 votes. The number of votes for each was as follows: George Washington, 97; Abraham Lincoln, 96; Daniel Webster, 96; Benjamin Franklin, 94; Ulysses S. Grant, 93; John Marshall, 91; Thomas Jefferson, 91; Ralph Waldo Emerson, 87; Robert Fulton, 86; Henry W. Longfellow, 85; Washington Irving, 83; Jonathan Edwards, 82; Samuel F. B. Morse, 82; David G. Farragut, 79; Henry Clay, 74; Nathaniel Hawthorne, 73; George Peabody, 74; Peter Cooper, 69; Robert E. Lee, 68; Eli Whitney, 69; John J. Audubon, 67; Horace Mann, 67; Henry Ward Beecher, 64; James Kent, 65; Joseph Story, 64; John Adams, 62; Wm. E. Channing, 58; Gilbert Stuart, 62; Asa Gray, 51.

In 1904 the constitution of the Hall was amended to provide for choosing separately 10 names of famous American women in 1905, and 2 in each succeeding quinquennium.

In Oct., 1905, the Senate received the ballots of 95 electors, of whom only 85 undertook to consider the names of women. A majority of 51 was demanded, but in the case of the names of women a majority of only 47. The following 8 persons were found to be duly chosen: John Quincy Adams, 60; James Russell Lowell, 59; William T. Sherman, 58; James Madison, 56; John G. Whittier, 53; Mary Lyon, 59; Emma Willard, 50; Maria Mitchell, 48.

In Oct., 1910, the Senate received the votes of 97 electors; 51 votes were required for choice; 10 names were added, as follows: Harriet Beecher Stowe, 74; Oliver Wendell Holmes, 69; Edgar Allan Poe, 69; James Fenimore Cooper, 62; Phillips Brooks, 60; William Cullen Bryant, 59; Frances E. Willard, 56; Andrew Jackson, 53; George Bancroft, 53, and John Lothrop Motley, 51.

For the election in 1915, the 100 electors were called to choose not more than 23 American men and not more than 11 famous American women. 97 electors sent ballots, 3 having died during year; 9 names were chosen by a majority of 49 or more electors, as follows: Alexander Hamilton, 70; Mark Hopkins, 69; Francis Parkman, 68; Louis Agassiz, 64; Elias Howe, 61; Joseph Henry, 56; Rufus Choate, 52; Daniel Boone, 52; with one woman, Charlotte Cushman, 53.

The Constitution was amended in 1914, by striking out the separable election of foreign-born Americans, so that the 4 foreign names which had been chosen in 1905 and 1910 were resubmitted in 1915 for election in competition with native-born Americans. Two names, Alexander Hamilton and Louis Agassiz, were approved. The others, John Paul Jones and Roger Williams, lacked a majority, but remain in nomination for 1920. Thus 50 famous men in all have been admitted, and 6 famous women. Total, 56. For the election in 1920 the 102 electors were called to choose not more than twenty men and not more than ten women. 101 electors sent ballots; six men were elected and one woman: Samuel Langhorne Clemens, James Buchanan Eads, Patrick Henry, Thomas William Greene Morton, Augustus Saint Gaudens, Roger Williams and Alice Freeman Palmer.

Communications should be addressed to Executive Office, Hall of Fame, 347 Madison av., New York City.

The new House of Assembly of New Jersey consists of 60 members. Harry Runyon of Warren County, was the sole Democrat chosen on Election Day. The remaining 59 Assemblymen, who include 2 women, 2 ministers and a negro, are Republican.

Employees have the right to contract for their services in a collective capacity, but any contract that contains a stipulation that employment contract is an invasion of the constitutional rights of Amer. workmen, is against public policy, and is in violation of conspiracy laws. This assn. declares its unalterable antagonism to the closed shop and insists that the doors of no industry be closed against American workmen because of their membership or non-membership in any labor organization."

RAILROAD FATALITIES AND INJURIES.

According to figures of the Interstate Com-merce Commission, fewer persons were killed on railroads during 1919 than in any year since 1898, and fewer were injured than in any year since 1910. The figures are summed up as fol-lows by Bradstreet's: During 1919 a total of 6,978 persons were killed and 149,053 injured, compared with 6,859 killed in 1898 and 119,507 injured in 1910. Of the killed, 273 were pas-sengers, as were 7,456 of the injured. Rail-road employees killed during the year num-bered 2,138, and 131,018 were injured. Fewer trespassers on railroads were killed in 1919 than during any year of the commission's re-cords, which go back to 1890. Last year 2,553 trespassers were killed and 2,658 injured.

GARRITSEN PARK GIFT.

Brooklyn is again indebted to two of its most generous citizens, Frederic B. Pratt and Alfred T. White, for their splendid gift of 143 acres of land and water in and about the his-toric Garritsen's Basin for park purposes. This gift is only one of the many which they have made toward the improvement of living condi-tions in Brooklyn.

SALARY SCHEDULES, ENTIRE CITY.

The last general salary legislation took effect Aug. 1, 1920, when the Lockwood Donohoe law became effective. A teacher appointed to a supervisory or teaching position who has previously taught in a lower position, is placed in the schedule for the higher position at the salary next above that to which such teacher would be entitled in the lower position. A member of the supervising and the teaching staff receives salary and increment provided in said schedule for the year which corresponds to his or her year of service in such schedules, unless her services for the year immediately preceding have been declared by a majority vote of Bd. of Supts. to be unsatisfactory, after opportunity to be heard.

SCHOOL TEACHERS' RETIREMENT FUND.

N. Y. City and the school teachers share in equal amount the cost of pension benefits to be provided (law enacted 1917). The cost represents for future entrants into the teaching force approximately 10% of their average salaries. One-half of this, or 5%, is contributed by the teachers and the other half, or 5%, by the city. These contributions develop a fund, out of which the pensions are paid on the expiration of the required period of service. For present employees the city not only provides ½ of their ultimate retirement allowance, but in addition makes up the arrearages due to accrued liability. This is done for each teacher in proportion to the length of his service.

The retirement plan involves two factors: (1) An annuity of 25% of the final salary, paid out of the contributions of the teacher, and (2) a service pension of 25% of the average final salary, paid for out of the contributions of the city. In addition to this benefit, each teacher is insured against disability occurring at any time after 10 years of service to an amount of 20% of the final salary, which is provided by the contributions of the city with such additional sum as may be purchased in the form of an annuity out of the teachers' contributions made up to the time of his retirement on disability.

The Dept. of Insurance has supervision over the conduct of the business of the fund.

The Retirement Board consists of the Pres. of the Board of Education, the Comptroller of N. Y. C., 2 members appointed by the Mayor, one of whom shall be a member of the Board of Education, and 3 members elected by representatives of the supervising and teaching force. The Board: Ann's S. Prall, Ch.; Chas. L. Craig, John A. Ferguson, T. W. Churchill, Clara C. Calkins, Fredk. Z. Lewis, Agnes M. Craig.

POSTAL REGULATIONS—PARCELS POST SYSTEM—Continued.

Note—The local rate applies to parcels mailed under the following conditions:

(1) At any post office for local delivery at such office.

(2) At any city letter carrier office, or at any point within its delivery limits, for delivery by carriers from that office.

(3) At any post office from which a rural route starts, for delivery on such route, or when mailed at any point on a rural route for delivery at any other point thereon.

Collect on Delivery.

The sender of a mailable parcel on which the postage is fully prepaid may have the price of the article and the charges thereon collected from the addressee on payment of a fee of 10c. in stamps affixed, provided the amount to be collected does not exceed $50, and for a fee of 25c. in stamps, provided the amount to be remitted does not exceed $100. Such a parcel will be insured against loss, rifling or damage without additional charge, in an amount equivalent to its actual value, but not to exceed $50 or $100, according to whether a 10c. or 25c. fee was paid.

A C. O. D. parcel will be accepted only at a money order office and when addressed to a money order office. Money order offices are designated in the Parcels Post Guide by an asterisk (*) or a dagger (†). The C. O. D. tag must show the amount due the sender and the money order fee necessary to make the remittance. The addressee will not be permitted to examine contents of a C. O. ## WORK OF THE 66TH CONGRESS.

(1st Session (Extraordinary) of 66th Congress, and part of 2d session.)

The first or extraordinary session of the 66th Congress, which convened on May 19, 1919, at the call of the President, passed but few bills of importance. Pres. Wilson, in a speech to Congress at the opening of the session, laid down a program of the legislation he desired. The principal request was action by the Senate on the Treaty of Peace. The Senate devoted practically its entire time to the consideration of the Treaty. Meanwhile the House passed a number of bills, some of which were acted upon by the Senate, others were acted upon during the 2d session of the 66th Congress, which convened on Dec. 2, 1919.

Laws Passed.

The following legislation has been passed by both the House and Senate and is now upon the statute books:

Return of the telephone, telegraph and cable lines of the country to their owners.
 Adoption of woman suffrage constitution amendment.

Enactment of prohibition enforcement bill.

Enactment of provisions for vocational training and rehabilitation of wounded soldiers and sailors and appropriation for the same.

Extension and enlargement of the food control act, as urged by the President, with a view of preventing hoarding and profiteering, and with additional penalties for the violation of the statute.

Provision for additional travel pay for enlisted men discharged from the Regular Army. Authorizing enlisted men who served in the world war to retain their uniforms and personal equipment.

Incorporation of the American Legion.

Amendment of the War Risk Insurance Act, increasing the allowance in certain classes of serious injury.

Repeal of the daylight saving law.

Provision for additional compensation for employees of the Postal Service.

Legislation to facilitate the marketing of agricultural products, including livestock, by increasing amount which banks may loan on paper secured by such commodities.

Amendment to the Federal Reserve Act to enable national banks to assist in the facilitation of export trade.

Legislation making more stringent the restrictions and prohibitions surrounding the entry of aliens.

Provision for the completion of the railroad in Alaska.

Provision for the punishment for the transportation of stolen vehicles.

Provision for completion and payment of necessary construction work in Army camps and cantonments.

Provision in aid of relief for the stricken peoples of the Near East by providing for an organization for that purpose.

Provision for the further regulation of vessels operated by the Shipping Board.

Creation of office of general of the Armies of the U. S. in terms providing for the appointment of J. J. Pershing to that office.

Provision for an ambassador to Belgium.

Edge bill for the organization of private corporations, under the Federal Reserve Board, for the financing of foreign trade.

Work of the Second Session, 66th Congress.

Congress convened at noon on Dec. 1, 1919, for the second, or first regular session, of the 66th Congress. This session ran until June 5, 1920, when final adjournment was taken so that the members could attend the national conventions.

On Dec. 2 President Wilson transmitted, in writing, his annual message to Congress. Since his inauguration as President, this was only the second time in which Mr. Wilson had not appeared in person to address Congress. The President made no specific reference in this message to the Treaty of Versailles, except to make it clear that in his opinion the establishment of peace must be the first step toward a restoration of normal conditions. His principal recommendations for legislation were as follows:

Establishment of a national budget system; reorganization of the taxation system with simplifications of the income and excess profits taxes; readjustment of the tariff system to protect new American industries; recognition and relief for the veteran soldiers of the World War, particularly in the way of Government farms as proposed by Secretary of the Interior Lane; an enlarged program for rural development in recognition of the farmers' part in the war and measures which will remove the causes of political restlessness in our body politic.

Congress immediately, after convening, resumed consideration of the bill for the return of the railroads to private ownership. This bill was passed early in 1920 and received the approval of the President.

Other important pieces of legislation enacted were:

A bill providing for the operation of the American merchant marine and creating a new Shipping Board.

Water power bill for the development of water power under Federal regulation.

Oil, Gas and Coal Land Leasing bill for the leasing of the remaining public lands containing coal, oil and gas.

Congress enacted a budget bill, but because of a provision taking away from the President the authority to remove the Comptroller of the Treasury, it was vetoed. This bill has been since introduced with the objectionable feature eliminated. It is expected to be passed at the present session.

The House also passed a bill providing a bonus for soldiers of the World War. This bill is now pending in the Senate.

The present session of Congress, the third one of the 66th, has witnessed the introduction and passage of a resolution recreating the War Finance Committee, with authority to loan money to the farmers, that they may sell their crops to foreign countries. This resolution is awaiting the approval of the President.

There has also been introduced a bill placing higher duties on the importation from foreign countries of agricultural commodities. This is designed to help maintain higher prices in the United States, so that the farmers may sell their crops at a profit.

The present session has also undertaken the formation of a new general tariff revision bill. This bill will not be taken up at this session.

MILITARY EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM OF THE UNITED STATES.

(Prepared by the Adjutant General's Office, U. S. A.)

The Military Educational System of the United States is under the supervision and co-ordination of the General Staff of the Army. The system provides for the military education of the officers and enlisted men of the Army. It contemplates that all officers upon being newly commissioned from West Point, from the ranks, from civil life, or from any other source, shall pursue a year's basic course at the special service schools of their respective arms. Upon completion of this, they are assigned to duty with troops of their arm of the service for a minimum period of two years.

I. The War Plans Division of the General Staff is charged with the supervision of all military, educational and vocational training throughout the army. It is in charge of a director, who is an assistant to the Chief of Staff.

II. Special Service Schools are maintained for each arm of the service as follows: The Infantry School, Camp Benning, Georgia; the Cavalry School, Fort Riley, Kansas; the Field Artillery Schools, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and Camp Knox, Kentucky; the Coast Artillery School, Fort Monroe, Virginia; the Engineer School, Camp Humphreys, Virginia; the Signal Corps School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; the Signal Corps School, Camp Alfred Vail, New Jersey; the Air Service Schools at the various flying fields; the Tank Corps School, Camp Meade, Maryland; the Ordnance School of Application, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland; the Ordnance School of Technology, Watertown, Mass.; the Ordnance School of Operation, Maintenance, and Repair, Raritan Arsenal, New Jersey; the Army Medical School, Washington, D. C.; the Motor Transport School, Camp Holabird, Maryland, and the Chemical Warfare School, Lakehurst, New Jersey; the Finance School, Ft. Washington, Maryland.

These schools are under the direct supervision and control of the chiefs of the respective arms or services. The object of the courses for officers is to develop and standardize the instruction and training of officers in the technique and tactics of their respective arm or service.

Basic courses, where officers are sent upon their initial entry into the Regular Army, are maintained at the five special service schools of the following combatant arms of the service, viz.: infantry, cavalry, field artillery, coast artillery, and engineers. These basic courses have for their object: So to qualify all officers upon their initial entry into the service that they may function intelligently on being assigned to duty with their arm of the service.

Advanced courses for the training of officers are maintained. They are of such scope as will completely fit the graduates for the performance of all duties that devolve upon officers of their grade in their respective arm of service.

III. General Service Schools, including (a) the School of the Line and (b) the General Staff School located at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and (c) the General Staff College, Washington, D. C., are under the direct supervision and control of the Chief of Staff of the army. It is contemplated that the officer will spend his first school year at the School of the Line. On the recommendation of the school faculty, which is based on his competitive class standing, he is eligible for the course at the General Staff School the succeeding year. The third year of his military education is to be spent, if practicable, on duty with troops of arms of the service other than that with which he has previously served. Having received the recommendation of the General Staff School faculty at the end of his second year, the officer is eligible to enter the General Staff College at the beginning of his fourth year. This course continues for one year, at the end of which period the officer's school education is complete and he is eligible for detail on the War Department Staff after having complied with the law as to eligibility for detached duty from his own arm of the service.

The School of the Line, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The object of this school is to train officers (a) in the combined use of all arms and services functioning with a division, including the functioning of corps and army troops and services in their relation to the division, in accordance with a uniform doctrine approved by the War Department; (b) in the duties and responsibilities of field officers with regard to education and training in the army.

The object of this school is to train selected officers, who have completed the course in the School of the Line, for higher tactical command and for duty as General Staff officers with tactical units. In addition, special courses are conducted for General officers and selected officers of the technical and administrative services.

The General Staff College, Washington, D. C. The object of this institution is to train selected officers who have completed the course in the General Staff School for high command and for duty in the War Department, General Staff. In addition, special courses are conducted for General Officers, and for selected officers of the technical and administrative services.

IV. Unit Schools for Officers. These schools include those for officers which are under the direct control of territorial or tactical commanders. Their primary object is the training and instruction of officers of all grades with a view to securing uniform and efficient training of the troops or personnel under their respective commands. The courses are conducted concurrently with and closely co-ordinated with the training schedules or work of the troops or personnel under the student officers.

V. Unit Schools for Enlisted Men. These schools include schools for the military training and instruction of enlisted men. They have for their object (a) to prepare non-commissioned officers, selected privates, and enlisted specialists to carry out efficiently the schedule of training or work in progress; (b) to insure proper uniformity and co-ordination in the training of work of different elements of the same command; (c) to provide such additional technical and tactical instruction as may be practicable and suited to the needs of the students.

Instructions prescribed by the Secretary of War. These units are composed of students and represent the various branches of the military service. The military instruction is conducted by army officers detailed for the purpose who are designated as professors of military science and tactics. The Reserve Officers' Training Corps consists of a senior division organized in general in colleges and universities which require four years of collegiate study for a degree and a junior division established at other approved institutions. Military training in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps is carried on from three to five hours each week throughout the four academic years, and also includes attendance at a summer camp of six weeks' duration. Upon the satisfactory completion of the four-year course, including the camp training, the students are eligible for appointment as second lieutenants in the Officers' Reserve Corps of the army.

VIII. General and Vocational Education of Soldiers. The Army school system provides for the enlisted personnel, elementary and advanced education, and vocational training. Education is voluntary, except for illiterates and non-English speaking recruits. Recruit Educational Centers have been established within the several territorial departments where intensive specialized training is given this class of student. In the advanced general education, an opportunity is given the soldier to pursue work preparatory to college and to West Point.

Vocational training is offered with the dual purpose of providing the Army with the technicians needed, and to qualify the soldier for a place in the industrial world on his return to civil life. The courses now offered are: Automotive, electrical, building, textile, food, animal transportation, metals, printing, medicine, highway construction and topography, steam, gas and electrical power, music, leather, machine, business, agriculture and miscellaneous. The "applicatory" or "learning by doing" method of instruction is followed in both the general education and vocational courses.

Funds are provided by Congressional appropriation. The instructors are qualified civilians and officers and soldiers within the service. A Special Educational School has been established for the purpose of developing courses along vocational and general educational lines, and for the instruction of teachers to insure uniform standards of achievement throughout the Army. Any Army recruiting officer will furnish detailed information concerning courses, and posts, camps and stations at which such courses are taught.

The routes between Cleveland and Chicago, and New York and Cleveland, were established in 1919, the route between Chicago and Omaha on May 15, 1920; the route between Chicago and St. Louis on Aug. 16, 1920, and the route between Chicago and Minneapolis on Sept. 1, 1920.

Between its inauguration and Sept. 1, 1920, the Air Mail operations covered 957,108 miles of flying. In that time it carried 38,027,440 letters. The cost of operation, including interest on investment, total or partial wrecking of planes, replacements of damage to planes, death and injury compensation, etc., amounted to $1,147,926.26 for 2¼ years, or $1.18 per mile.

More than 49,000 farmers of the United States now use motor trucks on their farms, so the Bureau of Agriculture reports, and, whether because of the motors or otherwise,

More than one-third of this cost of operation was not cash expenditure, but represents the original cost to the Army and Navy of surplus war material, which the Post Office Dept. put to use in carrying the mails. First-class mail has been advanced in delivery to the public 18 to 24 hours.

With the inauguration of the through Transcontinental Air Mail on Sept. 8, 1920, Postmaster General Burleson has extended the American Air Mail Service over 1,463 miles of new territory, reducing the transit time of mails between New York and San Francisco from 91 hours to 57 hours in the winter months and to 54 hours in the summer. Preparations have been made for night flying over the plains in the spring of 1921 between Chicago and Cheyenne, and this will reduce the time of transit of the Air Mail to 45 hours, against 91 hours by rail.

BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE GRAND CANYON DEDICATION TOUR.

The Eagle organized and conducted a Grand Canyon National Park Dedication Tour in April-May, 1920. The tourists, numbering 119, left New York on April 8; they returned on May 8, having passed through 21 States, with three side-trips into Mexico. The tour included practically all the beauties and wonders and historic points of interest in the Southwest and California, the distance covered by train being 7,835 miles, and 1,154 miles covered by automobile. The tour, which was organized with the co-operation of the National Park Service and on the invitation of the Secretary of the Interior, had as its central feature the dedication of the Grand Canyon as a national park. The dedication exercises were held on April 30 at the Powell Monument in the Grand Canyon. Governor Thomas E. Campbell of Arizona, Director Mather of the National Park Service, as well as Edward M. Bassett and Meier Steinbrink of The Eagle party, assisting in the ceremonies.

At the Grand Canyon The Eagle tourists raised a fund of $1,835.50 for a permanent memorial to mark the dedication of the canyon as a national park by The Eagle party. At a meeting of the tourists at the Brooklyn Club in June it was unanimously approved that the memorial should take the form of an information booth located at a convenient location in the canyon.

The Court of Claims has jurisdiction to hear and determine private claims against the State. But the court has no jurisdiction of a claim submitted by law to any other tribunal or officer for audit or determination except where the claim is founded upon express contract and such claim or some part thereof has been rejected by such tribunal or officer. In no case shall any liability be implied against the State and no award shall be made in any claim against the State except upon such legal evidence as would establish liability against an individual or corp. in a court of law or equity.

The court is regularly composed of 3 judges who are apptd. by Gov. by and with advice and consent of Senate. The 1st appts. under chap. 1 of the laws of '15 restoring Court of Claims were for terms of 3, 6 and 9 yrs. respectively. Hereafter the term of office of each judge will be 9 yrs.

By chap. 1 of the laws of '15 the Gov., in order to relieve congested condition of calendar, was given authority to appoint, by and with advice and consent of Senate, not more than 2 additional judges whose term of office would expire on Jan. 1, '18. By Chap. 255, Laws of 1917, the terms of the additional judges in office, when the act went into effect, were extended to Feb. 1, 1918, and the authority of the Gov. to appt. additional judges, under the restrictions therein named, was continued indefinitely.

CATSKILL WATER SUPPLY

New York City's Catskill Mountain water-supply system is being developed by the Board of Water Supply, which was created by Act of Legislature, chapter 724, laws of 1905. This legislation followed an eight years' campaign for an additional water-supply for N. Y. C. which began with a report presented on March 15, 1897, to the Manufacturers' Asso. of Bkin. by a special comm. of which Charles N. Chadwick was Chairman.

The Catskill water-supply system is the greatest which has ever been undertaken and ranks among the most notable enterprises ever carried out by any city, state or nation. For magnitude and cost and for the variety, complexity and difficulty of the physical problems involved it stands with the great canals, transcontinental railroad lines and New York's own rapid-transit railway system.

Catskill water has its origin in the Esopus and Schoharie watersheds, with an area of 257 and 314 sq. miles respectively; these watersheds are situated in the sparsely-populated central and eastern portions of the Catskill mountains and each of them will be called upon to yield upward of 250 million gallons of water daily in order to supply the 500 million gallons daily which the Catskill aqueduct was constructed to carry.

The first instalment of the Catskill system, covering the development of the Esopus watershed, was substantially completed and put into service in 1917, and since that time Catskill water has been delivered continuously into the five boroughs of the city at the rate of about 400 million gallons daily, which is approximately two-thirds the average daily water consumption of Gr. N. Y.

The portions of the system completed for the Esopus development include the Catskill impounding reservoir in Ulster county, an artificial lake 12 miles long; the Catskill aqueduct, extending 92 miles from the Ashokan reservoir to the northern boundary of N. Y. C.; the Kensico storage reservoir near White Plains; the Hill View equalizing reservoir in the City of Yonkers; the Silver Lake terminal reservoir on Staten Island, and 35 miles of tunnel and pipe-lines within the city limits for delivering the water to the distribution system. The area of the surface of the Ashokan reservoir is equivalent to that of Manhattan Island below 110th st. and the water which all the Catskill reservoirs together hold would fill the North river from the Battery to Hastings.

Water from the Catskill sources is delivered within the city by gravity, the water flowing from the Ashokan reservoir to the city and into the distribution pipes under such pressure that it need not be pumped before it reaches the people who use it.

New York State Nautical School.

City, aboard a proper vessel, to give instruction in science and practice of navigation, seamanship, steam and electrical engineering, to teach pupils from several counties of the State, who have qualifications of good moral character, elementary education and physical fitness. Board of Governors comprises J. H. Finley, Comr. of Education; E. W. Brown, N. Y. C., 1922; W. R. Evans, Buffalo, 1923; A. B. Conner, Mhnt., 1923; Reginald Fay, N. Y. C., 1921; Capt. N. L. ## State Commission for the Blind.

Legislative Library.

Located in State Capitol; open throughout year. C. R. Skinner, Librarian, $2,500.

State Aviation Commission.

Appd. by Gov. to make study of subject of regulation and promotion of aeronautics by the State and to report to Gov. their suggestions for legislation, together with bills prepared for purpose of carrying out such suggestions for introduction in Legislature during the session. Col. J. De Mont Thompson, N. Y. C.; Robert Graves, N. Y. C.; A. R. Hawley, N. Y. C.; F. S. Voss, N. Y. C.; C. D. Hakes, Albany; F. H. Allen, N. Y. C., and H. B. Horta, N. Y. C.

Of the 92 miles of the Catskill aqueduct between the Ashokan reservoir and the city line, 61 miles were constructed in open cut, nearly all of which is the standard cut-and-cover type 17 ft. high by 17 ft. 6 in. wide. The remaining 31 miles consist of tunnels driven through hills and mountains and in solid rock under wide, deep valleys. The most important of these valleys to be crossed was that of the Hudson river, where a circular tunnel 14 ft. in diameter was constructed at a depth of 1,100 ft. beneath the river surface. The cut-and-cover aqueduct and the tunnels are more than big enough for railroad trains to pass through them with ample clearances.

The city tunnel, which is 18 miles long and located at depths varying from 200 to 750 ft. below the street surface, carries the water from the Hill View reservoir to the distribution system in the Bronx and Manhattan and to two terminal shafts in Bkin.; from the latter shafts steel and cast-iron pipe-lines extend into Queens and Richmond, respectively.

Operations on the second stage of the Catskill water system, covering the development of the Schoharie watershed, are being actively carried on. This work comprises the construction of the Gilboa dam, forming the Schoharie reservoir, from which the water will be carried by the Shandaken tunnel, also now under construction, a distance of 18 miles to the Esopus creek, where it will flow through the present channel into the Ashokan reservoir.

For surveys, real estate, construction, engineering and general supervision, and all other items except interest on the bonds, the total cost of the completed Catskill system will be about $17,000,000 of which $22,000,000 is for the Schoharie works. To Sept. 30, 1920, $144,618,190.91 had been expended.

IRISH HOME RULE BILL.

The Irish Home Rule Bill, as slightly modified by the House of Lords, was adopted by the House of Commons on Dec. 21, 1920. Under the bill two self-governing parliaments are established, one for Northeast Ulster at Belfast and the other for the rest of Ireland at Dublin. A Federal Council elected in equal parts by the two legislatures forms a connecting link.

The demand for a separate parliament for Ireland was first advanced at Westminster by an Irish party under the leadership of Isaac Butt (born 1813, died 1879), who was succeeded by Charles Stewart Parnell (born 1846, died 1891). After many failures to pass a bill through both Houses of Parliament, a Home Rule Bill was eventually placed on the Statute Book in 1914, with a suspensory clause for the duration of the war. In the later stages of the war, however, the extreme party of the Irish politicians developed their organization under the name of Sinn Féin ("Ourselves Alone") and demanded complete severance from Great Britain and the recognition of an Irish Republic. Various efforts have been made by the Cabinet to arrive at a solution of the Irish problem and the Home Rule Bill now on the Statute Book is in lieu of the 1914 bill.

According to statistics prepared by the Collector of Internal Revenue, patrons of the theaters in Manhattan alone paid a tax amounting to $783,891.42 during the month of January, 1920, representing a sum of nearly $3,000,000 spent in theater tickets.

UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY AT WEST POINT.

Each Senator, Congressional district and Territory, including Porto Rico, Alaska and Hawaii, is entitled to have two cadets at the academy; the District of Columbia, four cadets. There are also eighty-two appointments at large, two of whom are appointed upon the recommendation of the Vice-President, specially conferred by the President of the United States. The law (act of May 4, 1916) authorizes the President to appoint cadets to the United States Military Academy from among enlisted men in the Regular Army and National Guard, the total number not to exceed one hundred and eighty at any one time.

Appointments are usually made one year in advance of date of admission, by the Secretary of War, upon the nomination of the Senator or Representative. These nominations may either be made after competitive examination or given direct, at the option of the Representative. The Representative may nominate two legally qualified second candidates, to be designated first and second alternates. The alternates will receive from the War Department a letter of appointment, and will be examined with the regular appointees, and the better qualified will be admitted to the academy in the event of the failure of the principal to pass the prescribed preliminary examinations. Appointees to the Military Academy must be between seventeen and twenty-two years of age, except in the following case: That during the calendar years 1919, 1920 and 1921 any appointee who has served honorably and faithfully not less than one year in the armed forces of the United States or allied armies in the late war with Germany, and who possesses the other qualifications required by law, may be admitted between the ages of seventeen and twenty-four years; Provided, That whenever any member of the graduating class shall fail to complete the course with his class by reason of sickness, or deficiency in his studies or other cause, such failure shall not operate to delay the admission of his successor. Appointees must be free from any infirmity which may render them unfit for military service, and able to pass, unless a satisfactory certificate is submitted, a careful examination in English grammar, English composition, English literature, algebra through quadratic equations, plane geometry, United States history, and the outlines of general history. The Secretary of War is authorized to permit not exceeding four Filipinos to be designated, one for each class, by the Governor-General of the Philippine Islands, to receive instruction at the United States Military Academy at West Point; Provided, That the Filipinos undergoing instruction shall receive the same pay, allowances and emoluments as are authorized by law for cadets at the Military Academy appointed from the United States, to be paid out of the same appropriations; And provided further, That said Filipinos undergoing instruction, on graduation shall be eligible only to commissions in the Philippine Scouts; serve for eight years, unless sooner discharged.

The course of instruction, which is quite thorough, requires four years; Provided, That any person heretofore nominated in accordance with regulations for appointment to fill vacancy which would have resulted from the graduation of a cadet during the present year, may be so appointed notwithstanding the retention of such cadet at the academy; Provided further, That any cadet now at the academy may at his option, exercised prior to June 11, 1920, continue at the academy one additional year and postpone thereby his prospective graduation, and cadets not electing so to prolong their course shall be graduated in the years assigned to their respective classes prior to the passage of this Act. The course is largely mathematical and professional. The principal subjects taught are mathematics, English, French, drawing, drill regulations of all arms of the service, natural and experimental philosophy, chemistry, chemical physics, mineralogy, geology, electricity, history, international, constitutional and military law, Spanish, civil and military engineering, art and science of war, and ordnance and gunnery.

From about the middle of June to the end of August cadets live in camp, engaged only in military duties and receiving practical military instruction. Cadets are allowed but one leave of absence during the four years' course, and this is granted at the expiration of the first two years. The pay of a cadet is $1,174.20 per year and with proper economy is sufficient for his support.

Upon graduating, cadets are commissioned as Second Lieutenants in the United States Army. The whole number of cadets graduated from 1802 to 1920, inclusive, has been 5,898. It is virtually absolutely necessary for a person seeking an appointment to apply to his Senator or Member of Congress. The Superintendent is Brig.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U. S. A., and the military and academic staff consists of 15 persons. Number of cadets June 15, 1920, was 701.

COURT OF INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE

Following is the text of the draft scheme for the institution of a permanent Court of International Justice adopted by an advisory committee of international jurists at the Hague, June 16-July 24, 1920, and presented to the Council of the League of Nations. On Dec. 13, 1920, the Assembly of the League of Nations adopted the statute for an International Court of Justice, with an amendment eliminating compulsory jurisdiction. The Assembly meets next in Sept., 1921, and if the statute is ratified by a majority of the members of the League the judges will then be elected and the court constituted.

Chapter I.

ORGANIZATION OF THE COURT.

Article 1—A Permanent Court of International Justice, to which parties shall have direct access, is hereby established, in accordance with Article 14 of the Covenant of the League of Nations. This court shall be in addition to the Court of Arbitration organized by the Hague Convention of 1899 and 1907, and to the special tribunals of arbitration to which States are always at liberty to submit their disputes for settlement.

Article 2—The Permanent Court of International Justice shall be composed of a body of independent judges, elected regardless of their nationality, from among persons of high moral character, who possess the qualifications required, in their respective countries, for appointment to the highest judicial offices, or are jurisconsults of recognized competence in international law.

Article 3—The Court shall consist of 15 members: 11 judges and 4 deputy judges. The number of judges and deputy judges may be hereafter increased by the Assembly, upon the proposal of the Council of the League of Nations, to a total of 15 judges and 6 deputy judges.

Article 4—The members of the Court shall be elected by the Assembly and the Council from a list of persons nominated by the national groups in the Court of Arbitration, in accordance with the following provisions:

Article 5—At least three months before the date of the election the Secretary-General of the League of Nations shall address a written request to the members of the Court of Arbitration, belonging to the States mentioned in the Annex to the Covenant or to the States which shall have joined the League subsequently, inviting them to undertake, by national groups, the nomination of persons in a position to accept the duties of a member of the court.

Article 6—Before making these nominations, each national group is hereby recommended to consult its highest court of justice, its legal faculties and schools of law and its national academies and national sections of international academies devoted to the study of law.

Article 7—The Secretary-General of the League of Nations shall prepare a list, in alphabetical order, of all the persons thus nominated. These persons only shall be eligible for appointment, except as provided in Article 12, paragraph 2.

The Secretary-General shall submit this list to the Assembly and to the Council.

Article 8—The Assembly and the Council shall proceed to elect by independent voting first the judges and then the deputy judges.

Article 9—At every election the electors shall bear in mind that not only should all the persons appointed as members of the Court possess the qualifications required, but the whole body also should represent the main forms of civilization and the principal legal systems of the world.

Article 10—Those candidates who obtain an absolute majority of votes in the Assembly and the Council shall be considered as elected.

In the event of more than one candidate of the same nationality being elected by the votes of both the Assembly and the Council, the eldest of these only shall be considered as elected.

Article 11—If, after the first sitting held for the purpose of the election, one or more seats remain to be filled, a second and, if necessary, a third sitting shall take place.

Article 12—If, after the third sitting, one or more seats still remain unfilled, a joint conference, consisting of six members, three appointed by the Assembly and three by the Council, may be formed at any time at the request of either the Assembly or the Council, for the purpose of choosing one name for each seat still vacant, to submit to the Assembly and the Council for their respective acceptance.

If the committee is unanimously agreed upon any person, who fulfills the required conditions, he may be included in its list, even though he was not included in the list of nominations made by the Court of Arbitration.

If the Joint Conference is not successful in procuring an election, those members of the Court, who have already been appointed, shall within a time limit, to be arranged by the Council, proceed to fill the vacant seats by selection from amongst those candidates who have obtained votes either in the Assembly or in the Council.

In the event of an equality of votes amongst the judges, the eldest judge shall have a casting vote.

Article 13—The members of the Court shall be elected for nine years. They may be re-elected. They shall continue to discharge their duties until their places have been filled.

Though replaced, they shall complete any cases which they may have begun.

Article 14—Vacancies which may occur shall be filled by the same method as that laid down for the first election.

A member of the Court elected to replace a member, the period of whose appointment has not expired, will hold the appointment for the remainder of his predecessor's term.

Article 15—Deputy judges shall be called upon to sit in the order laid down in a list.

This list shall be prepared by the Court, having regard first to the order in time of each election and secondly to age.

Article 16—The exercise of any function which belongs to the political direction, national or international, of States, by the members of the Court, during their terms of office, is declared incompatible with their judicial duties.

Any doubt upon this point is settled by the decision of the Court.

Article 17—No member of the Court can act as agent, counsel or advocate in any case of an international nature.

No member may participate in the decision of any case in which he has previously taken an active part, as agent, counsel or advocate for one of the contesting parties, or as a member of a national or international Court, or of a Commission of Inquiry, or in any other capacity.

Any doubt upon this point is settled by the decision of the Court.

Article 18—A member of the Court cannot be dismissed unless, in the unanimous opinion of the other members, he has ceased to fulfill the required conditions.

When this happens a formal notification shall be given to the Secretary-General.

This notification makes the place vacant.

Article 19—The members of the Court, when outside their own country, shall enjoy the privileges and immunities of diplomatic representatives.

Article 20—Every member of the Court shall, before taking up his duties, make a solemn declaration in open Court that he will exercise his powers impartially and conscientiously.

Article 21—The Court shall elect its President and Vice-President for three years; they may be re-elected.

It shall appoint its Registrar.

The duties of Registrar of the Court shall not be considered incompatible with those of Secretary-General of the Permanent Court of Arbitration.

Article 22—The seat of the Court shall be established at The Hague. The President and Registrar shall reside at the seat of the Court.

Article 23—A session shall be held every year. Unless otherwise provided by rules of Court this session shall begin on the 15th of June and shall continue for so long as may be necessary to complete the cases on the list. The President may summon an extraordinary meeting of the Court whenever necessary.

COURT OF INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE—Continued.

Article 24—If, for some special reason, a member of the Court considers that he cannot take part in the decision of a particular case, he shall so inform the President.

If, for some special reason, the President considers that one of the members of the Court should not sit on a particular case, he shall give notice to the member concerned.

In the event of the President and the member not agreeing as to the course to be adopted in any such case, the matter shall be settled by the decision of the Court.

Article 25—The full Court shall sit, except when it is expressly provided otherwise. If 11 judges cannot be present, deputy judges shall be called upon to sit, in order to make up this number. If, however, 11 judges are not available, a quorum of 9 judges shall suffice to constitute the Court.

Article 26—The expenses of the Court shall be borne by the League of Nations, in such a manner as shall be decided by the Assembly upon the proposal of the Council.

Article 27—The Court shall frame rules for regulating its procedure. In particular, it shall lay down rules for summary procedure.

Article 28—Judges of the nationality of each contesting party shall retain their right to sit in the case before the Court.

If the Court includes upon the Bench a judge of the nationality of one of the parties only, the other party may select from among the deputy judges of its nationality, if there be one. If there should not be one, the party may choose a judge, preferably from among those persons who have been nominated as candidates by some national group in the Court of Arbitration.

If the Court includes upon the Bench no judges of the nationality of the contesting parties, each of these may proceed to select or choose a judge, as provided in the preceding paragraph.

Should there be several parties in the same interest, they shall, for the purpose of the preceding provisions, be reckoned as one party only. Judges selected or chosen as laid down in paragraphs 2 and 3 of this article shall fulfill the conditions required by Articles 2, 16, 17, 20, 24 of this statute. They shall take part in the decision on an equal footing with their colleagues.

Article 29—The judge shall receive an annual salary to be determined by the Assembly of the League of Nations upon the proposal of the Council. This salary must not be decreased during the period of a judge's appointment.

The President shall receive a special grant for his period of office, to be fixed in the same way.

Deputy judges shall receive a grant, for the actual performance of their duties, to be fixed in the same way.

Traveling expenses incurred in the performance of their duties shall be refunded to judges and deputy judges who do not reside at the seat of the Court.

Grants due to judges selected or chosen as provided in Article 28 shall be determined in the same way.

The salary of the Registrar shall be decided by the Council upon the proposal of the Court.

A special regulation shall provide for the pensions to which the judges and Registrar shall be entitled.

Article 30—The expenses of the Court shall be borne by the League of Nations in such a manner as shall be decided by the Assembly upon the proposal of the Council.

Chapter II. COMPETENCE OF THE COURT.

Article 31—The Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine suits between States.

Article 32—The Court shall be open of right to the States mentioned in the Annex to the Covenant, and to such others as shall subsequently enter the League of Nations. Other States may have access to it. The conditions under which the Court shall be open of right or accessible to States which are not members of the League of Nations shall be determined by the Council, in accordance with Article 17 of the Covenant.

Article 33—When a dispute has arisen between States, and it has been found impossible to settle it by diplomatic means, and no agreement has been made to choose another jurisdiction, the party complaining may bring the case before the Court. The Court shall, first of all, decide whether the preceding conditions have been complied with; if so, it shall hear and determine the dispute, according to the terms and within the limits of the next article.

Article 34—Between States which are members of the League of Nations, the Court shall have jurisdiction (and this without any special convention giving it jurisdiction) to hear and determine cases of a legal nature, concerning: (a) The interpretation of a treaty; (b) any question of international law; (c) the existence of any fact which, if established, would constitute a breach of an international obligation; (d) the nature or extent of reparation to be made for the breach of an international obligation; (e) the interpretation of a sentence passed by the Court.

The Court shall also take cognizance of all disputes of any kind which may be submitted to it by a general or particular convention between the parties. In the event of a dispute as to whether a certain case comes within any of the categories above mentioned, the matter shall be settled by the decision of the Court.

Article 35—The Court shall, within the limits of its jurisdiction as defined in Article 34, apply in the order as follows:

1. International conventions, whether general or particular, establishing rules expressly recognized by the contesting States.
2. International custom, as evidence of a general practice, which is accepted as law.
3. The general principles of law recognized by civilized nations.
4. Judicial decisions and the teachings of the most highly qualified publicists of the various nations, as subsidiary means for the determination of rules of law.

Article 36—The Court shall give an advisory opinion upon any question or dispute of an international nature referred to it by the Council or Assembly. When the Court shall give an opinion on a question of an international nature, which does not refer to any dispute that may have arisen, it shall appoint a special commission of from three to five members. When it shall give an opinion upon a question which forms the subject of an existing dispute, it shall do so under the same conditions as if the case had been actually submitted to it for decision.

Chapter III. PROCEDURE.

Article 37—The official language of the Court shall be French. The Court may, at the request of the contesting parties, authorize another language to be used before it.

Article 38—A State desiring to have recourse to the Court shall lodge a written application, addressed to the Registrar. The application shall indicate the subject of the dispute and name the contesting parties. The Registrar shall forthwith communicate the application to all concerned. He shall also notify the members of the League of Nations through the Secretary-General.

Article 39—If the dispute arises out of an act which has already taken place or which is imminent, the Court shall have the power to suggest, if it considers that circumstances so require, the provisional measures that should be taken to preserve the respective rights of either party.

Pending the final decision, notice of the measures suggested shall forthwith be given to the parties and the Council.

Article 40—The parties shall be represented by agents.

They may have counsel or advocates to plead before the Court.

Article 41—The procedure shall consist of two parts, written and oral.

Article 42—The written proceedings shall consist of the communication to the judges and to the parties of statements of cases, counter-cases and, if necessary, replies; also all papers and documents in support.

These communications shall be made through the Registrar, in the order and within the time fixed by the Court.

COURT OF INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE—Continued.

A certified copy of every document produced by one party shall be communicated to the other party.

Article 43—The oral proceedings shall consist of the hearing by the Court of witnesses, experts, agents, counsel and advocates.

For the service of all notices upon persons other than the agents, counsel and advocates, the Court shall apply direct to the Government of the State upon whose territory the notice has to be served.

The same provision shall apply whenever steps are to be taken to procure evidence on the spot.

Article 44—The proceedings shall be under the direction of the President, or, in his absence, of the Vice-President; if both are absent, the senior judge shall preside.

Article 45—The hearing in Court shall be public, unless the Court, at the written request of one of the parties, accompanied by a statement of his reasons, shall otherwise decide.

Article 46—Minutes shall be made at each hearing and signed by the Registrar and the President.

These minutes shall be the only authentic record.

Article 47—The Court shall make orders for the conduct of the case, shall decide the form and time in which each party must conclude its arguments, and make all arrangements connected with the taking of evidence.

Article 48—The Court may, even before the hearing begins, call upon the agents to procure any document, or to supply to the Court any explanations. Any refusal shall be recorded.

Article 49—The Court may at any time entrust any individual, bureau, commission or other body that it may select with the task of carrying out an inquiry or giving an expert opinion.

Article 50—During the hearing in Court the judges may put any questions considered by them to be necessary, to the witnesses, agents, experts, advocates or counsel. The agents, advocates and counsel shall have the right to ask, through the President, any questions that the Court considers useful.

Article 51—After the Court has received the proofs and evidence within the time specified for the purpose, it may refuse to accept any further oral or written evidence that one party may desire to present, unless the other side consents.

Article 52—Whenever one of the parties shall not appear before the Court, or shall fail to defend his case, the other party may call upon the Court to decide in favor of his claim. The Court must, before doing so, satisfy itself, not only that it has jurisdiction in accordance with Articles 33 and 34, but also that the claim is supported by substantial evidence and well founded in fact and law.

Article 53—When the agents, advocates and counsel, subject to the control of the Court, have presented all the evidence, and taken all other steps that they consider advisable, the President shall declare the case closed.

The Court shall withdraw to consider the judgment.

The deliberations of the Court shall take place in private and remain secret.

Article 54—All questions shall be decided by a majority of the judges present at the hearing. In the event of an equality of votes, the President or his deputy shall have a casting vote.

Article 55—The judgment shall state the reasons on which it is based.

It shall contain the names of the judges who have taken part in the decision.

Article 56—If the judgment given does not represent, wholly or in part, the unanimous opinion of the judges, the dissenting judges shall be entitled to have the fact of their dissent or reservations mentioned in it. But the reasons for their dissent or reservations shall not be expressed in the judgment.

Article 57—The judgment shall be signed by the President and by the Registrar. It shall be read in open court, due notice having been given to the agents.

Article 58—The judgment is final and without appeal. In the event of uncertainty as to the meaning or scope of the judgment, the Court shall construe it upon the request of any party.

Article 59—An application for revision of a judgment can be made only when it is based upon the discovery of some new fact, of such a nature as to be a decisive factor, which fact was, when the judgment was given, unknown to the Court and also to the party claiming revision, always provided that such ignorance was not due to negligence.

The proceedings for revision will be opened by a judgment of the Court expressly recording the existence of the new fact, recognizing that it has such a character as to lay the case open to revision, and declaring the application admissible on this ground. The court may require previous compliance with the terms of the judgment before it admits proceedings in revision. No application for revision may be made after the lapse of five years from the date of the sentence.

Article 60—Should a State consider that it has an interest of a legal nature which may be affected by the decision in the case, it may submit a request to the Court to be permitted to intervene as a third party. It will be for the Court to decide upon this request.

Article 61—Whenever the construction of a convention in which States, other than those concerned in the case, are parties, is in question, the Registrar shall notify all such States forthwith. Every State so notified has the right to intervene in the proceedings; but if it uses this right, the construction given by the judgment will be as binding upon it as upon the original parties to the dispute.

Article 62—Unless otherwise decided by the Court, each party shall bear its own costs.

THE NOBEL PRIZES.

The Nobel Peace Prize for 1920 was conferred on President Wilson of the United States. The only two Americans who have in the past received the Peace Prize were Theodore Roosevelt in 1906 and Elihu Root in 1912. The Nobel Peace Prize carries with it a grant of about $40,000 from the fund left for that purpose by Alfred B. Nobel, the Swedish scientist, and the inventor of dynamite, who died in 1896. ## CITY OF NEW YORK MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

The Govt. of the City of New York has 3 officials elected by the whole city, the Mayor, the Comptroller and the Pres. of the Bd. of Aldermen. The last is Vice-Mayor. There is a Borough Pres. for each of the 5 boroughs, elected simultaneously with the Mayor, and deputies of borough depts. apptd. with the presidents as executives. The general city depts. are filled by appointees of the Mayor, who also names members of the Bd. of City Magistrates. The legislative branch is the Bd. of Aldermen, elected by districts. Certain constitutional officers of counties are still elected, though they are paid out of the city budget, and the counties are otherwise not considered. The charter of 1901, which went into effect Jan. 1, 1902, defines the functions of all depts.

Seal of The City of New York.
Adopted June 24, 1915.

CHARTER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK. (Complete text, with 1920 Amendments, Eagle Library No. 216.)

The charter of the City of New York is a development of the charters of the former cities, New York, Brooklyn and Long Island City, differing from all of them, however, by the introduction of the principle of local control over local affairs. In this feature the charter provides a system of govt. more nearly like that of London and continental cities. For a history of charter making see Introduction to Eagle Library No. 216.

SEAL AND FLAG.

The City of New York adopted on June 24, 1915, as its official emblem, a new flag, combining the colors of the United Netherlands—orange, white and blue (blue next to flagstaff)—under which the city was settled, with the design of the municipal seal, under which English authority replaced the Dutch. Founded by the Dutch in 1624 as "New Amsterdam," it was named "New York" in 1664, and a year later, on June 24, 1665, the municipal govt. was formally transferred to the Mayor and Bd. of Aldermen of the City of New York, as successors in office of the burgomasters and schefens of the City of New Amsterdam.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.*Statement for the Academic Year 1919-1920.

Ninety-eight Rhodes Scholars came into residence for the first time during the year. The number of Scholars actually in residence for either the whole or some part of the academic year 1919-1920 was 183—viz., 105 from the British Empire and 78 from the United States of America. There were also in residence four ex-Scholars, of whom three were from the British Empire and one from the United States of America. In the course of the year thirty-two Scholars either went out of residence or, although remaining in residence, completed the term of their Scholarship.

The academic year, 1920-1921 started with 220 Rhodes Scholars in residence. A further 60 came into residence in January, 1921.

The results of the 1920 annual election of Rhodes Scholars to represent the United States at the University of Oxford were announced on Sept. 26, 1920, by Prof. Frank Aydelotte, Mass. Inst. of Technology, the American secretary of the Rhodes trustees. The quota for the United States was, as in 1919, sixty-four, instead of the normal thirty-two, thus making up for the postponement of elections during the war. In 1921 the quota for the United States will be thirty-two, and two-thirds of the States will elect one man each, while those which in 1920 made two appointments, will have no election. Alexander B. Trowbridge (Cornell Univ.), of Flushing, L. I., received the New York State 1920 appointment.

The offices of the Rhodes Trust are at Seymour House, Waterloo place, London, S. W. In the United States application may be made to Prof. Frank Aydelotte, Mass. Inst. of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.

Statistics of the Structure.

The Manhattan Bridge is the greatest suspension bridge in the world. It extends from Bowery and Canal, Mhntn., to Nassau and Bridge, Bkln. The ordinance authorizing construction was approved by the Mayor Jan. 8, 1900, and Jan. 28, 1900, the Sec. of War approved the plans. Construction commenced on Oct. 1, 1901. The Bkln. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rodgers, May 1, 1901, for $471,757, and the foundation was completed in Dec., 1902. The Mhnt. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rodgers Dec. 22, 1902, for $482,726.56, and the foundation was completed in April, 1904. On July 9, 1903, the contract for masonry pedestals on top of the tower foundations was let to J. C. Rodgers for $156,000. The Bkln. anchorage contract was let to Kosmos Engineering Co. Jan. 24, 1905, for $1,212,554, and the Mhnt. anchorage contract was let to Williams Engineering and Contracting Co., Feb. 9, 1905, for $1,197,000. Each anchorage is 237 ft. long by 182 ft. wide. The contract for furnishing the metal work for the anchorages and constructing the towers, cables, suspenders and suspended superstructure was let to the Ryan-Parker Construction Co. on June 15, 1906, at a price of $6,493,223. The steel towers over which the cables are swung are 336 ft. high. They are constructed on masonry piers which extend 92 ft. below and 32 ft. above mean high water level. The largest steel plates in these towers are 362 in. long, 88½ in. wide, and 3½ in. thick, weighing each 16,460 pounds. The first wire rope for the temporary cables supporting footwalks was strung on June 15, 1908. The first cable wire was strung August 10, 1908; the last one on Dec. 10, 1908. These four cables contain 37,888 galvanized acid steel wires. Diameter of cables, 21¼ in. Length of each wire about 2,224 ft.

The contract for the construction of the masonry piers, surface and sub-surface changes and steel superstructure of the Mhnt. and Bkln. approaches was entered into with J. C. Rodgers on Dec. 20, 1907, for $2,168,304.

On Jan. 18, 1909, a contract was entered into with the Lord Electric Co. for the construction of railings, roadway and footwalk pavements and tracks and electrical equipments, the total cost of which was $394,163. Contract for improvement of Mhnt. plaza with Wm. P. Seaver for $817,380, dated Jan. 18, 1913. Contract for improvement of Bkln. plaza with North-Eastern Construction Co. for $596,400, dated June 23, 1913. The total length of the bridge is 6,555 ft. and the extreme width 123 ft. 6 in. The elevation above mean high water at center is 135 ft. Provision is made for 4 trolley and 4 subway tracks, one 35-ft. roadway and two promenades, each 13 ft. 7 in. wide.

On Dec. 31, 1909, the roadway was opened to the public. On July 15, 1910, the east footwalk was opened to pedestrians. On May 11, 1911, the west footwalk was opened to pedestrians. Local surface car traffic commenced Sept. 4, 1912. Subway trains first used the bridge, June 22, 1915. Total cost of constr. to Dec. 31, 1915, was $16,698,189.

NEW YORK CONNECTING RAILROAD BRIDGE.

The N. Y. Connecting Railroad cantilever bridge over Hell Gate from the Astoria section of Queens, crossing Ward's and Randall's Islands to the Port Morris region of the Bronx is an important railway connection with Bkln. The Pennsylvania and New Haven Systems share interests. Starting from the yards of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co. at 142d in the Bronx, the line passes over numerous streets and is carried on a steel viaduct with concrete piers some 4,064 ft. to the Bronx Kills, which it crosses on a two-span Bascule Bridge of the Strauss type, each span 175 ft. long; thence on steel viaduct 1,900 ft. long to Little Hell Gate, which it crosses by three deck truss spans 296 ft. long and one span 260 ft. long; thence on steel viaduct 2,570 ft. long to Hell Gate Arch 977 ft. 6 in.; thence on steel viaduct 2,820 ft. long; thence partly on viaduct and embankment. At Hell Gate there has been built the most massive bridge structure of its kind in this country. It has huge granite piers 250 ft. high and a span of 1,107 ft. The clear height above mean high water is 135 ft. The great steel structure, rising in a parabolic arch, has four tracks, two for passenger trains and two for freight. The train floor level is below the crown of the arch and suspended from it. The estimated weight of steel in the viaducts and bridges together, about 3 miles long, is 75,000 tons. From the Long Island end of the bridge the pass. tracks continue partly on a viaduct and partly on embankment to the Sunny-side yards of the Penn. R. R. in L. I. City. The freight tracks continue through Queens to Fresh Pond and the East New York part of Brooklyn; whence they follow the route of the Manhattan Beach Railroad to Flatbush and then the Bay Ridge branch of that road to the waterfront at 6th st. The passenger connection between the Pennsylvania System and the New Haven is via the tunnels of the former from New Jersey to Long Island, and thence by the Connecting Railroad to Port Morris, where the New Haven road practically begins.

257 MILES OF B. R. T.

Since the opening of the Montague Street and 60th Street Queens tunnels under the East River, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company has had in operation 257½ miles of rapid transit road.

PETROLEUM IN MEXICO.

Mexico's 1920 production of petroleum amounted to 140,000,000 barrels, or one-fifth of the world's total, according to official estimates given out by the Mexican Embassy. This compares with a production of 88,000,000 barrels in 1919 and more than twice as much as 1918 and 1917.

NEWTOWN CREEK.

Although less than four miles from its source, among the oil refineries of Blissville and Greenpoint, L. I., to its mouth at the East River, Newtown Creek is known as one of the "world's busiest waterways." The Mississippi River, from New Orleans to St. Paul, is 1,000 miles in length and flows through a great industrial and agricultural district. Recent figures show that 5,220,000 tons of cargo are carried annually on the upper and lower reaches of the longest river in the world, while the annual average of tonnage carried on the little four-mile Newtown Creek was 5,620,000.

In last 52 years Italy leads the list with 200,000 killed in disaster of 1908. 1868, Ecuador and Peru, 25,000 killed. 1886, Cashmere, 70,000 homes destroyed. 1902, Martinique, 82,500 killed. 1908, Sicily and Italy, 200,000 killed.

CANADIAN PROSPERITY.

Canadian exports for the year ended Sept. 30, 1920, amounted to $1,219,523,896, almost half of the Canadian national debt. Official estimates place the wealth of the Canadian people at $16,000,000,000. 1902, Martinique, 82,500 killed. 1908, Sicily and Italy, 200,000 killed.

REAL ESTATE SITUATION.

The real estate market in New York City during the year 1919 was marked by a series of spectacular deals which caused real estate values to advance by leaps and bounds. The activity was caused principally by the shortage of housing facilities and the stoppage of building construction. The latter condition was brought about by the high cost of building material and labor. These unsettled conditions, students of real estate contend, were the natural consequences of the war. However, a halt was called to the wild speculation in apartment buildings, when landlords boosted rents to such a degree that "rent strikes" frequently occurred. The final effect of the traffic was the enactment of rent legislation, which dealt a disastrous blow to the real estate boom.

The market recovered somewhat from this restrictive legislation in the early part of the spring of 1920, but the attitude of the courts in their interpretation of the rent laws, real estate brokers said, discouraged investors from doing business in real estate, particularly in property affected by the rent laws. The auction market during the year 1920 was exceedingly interesting from the standpoint of the student of real estate. The demand for vacant land began to be felt when improved property found new buyers. This demand became apparent in all sections of the city, particularly in the subway zones.

MAYFLOWER TERCENTENARY.

Three hundred years ago the Pilgrim Fathers left Plymouth, England, on their voyage for liberty, and landed in New England. The efforts of the Pilgrims, at first in vain, to escape from England to Holland, their reunion and sufferings in that country, the departure from Delfthaven in July, 1620; the sailing from Southampton on Aug. 5, 1620, of the ships Mayflower and Speedwell, and the subsequent dismissal from the enterprise of the latter ill-fated vessel, the final departure of the Mayflower from Plymouth on Sept. 6, 1620; the arrival two months later at New Plymouth, the subsequent hardships of the Pilgrims and the eventual triumphant events and achievements arising as direct results from the expedition, form a chain of events constituting one of the most moving episodes of history. During the year 1920 a large number of commemorative functions were organized in the United States, the United Kingdom and Holland, and pageants, plays and processions have been popular features in a number of towns where homage has been paid to the Pilgrim Fathers.

N. Y. SUB-TREASURY TO BE PRESERVED.

David F. Houston, Secretary of the Treasury, announced that, although the New York City Sub-Treasury would be discontinued at the close of business, Dec. 6, 1920, and its functions taken over by the Federal Reserve Banks and other organizations, the building itself would be retained by the Treasury Department because of its historic significance.

LOCAL OPTION IN SCOTLAND.

The "Act to Promote Temperance in Scotland," passed by the Parliament of Great Britain and Ireland in 1913, came into force on June 1, 1920. For the purpose of the act the country is divided into areas, and it is provided that if ten per cent. of the electors in any area sign a requisition demanding a poll, then a poll shall be taken on the question of adopting, 1. A no-change resolution. 2. A limiting resolution. 3. A no-license resolution. The last-named resolution means that during the period in which a no-license resolution remains in force, no license shall be granted, except in the case of an inn or hotel or premises bona fide used as a restaurant. To carry a no-license resolution requires at least 55 per cent. of the votes recorded, and not less than 35 per cent. of the total electorate. Elections were held for a number of areas in Nov. and Dec., 1920, when no-license resolutions were adopted in some areas, but the majority of areas favored a no-change or limiting plan.

INCOME TAX PAYERS.

More than 5,600,000 firms and individuals were income tax payers in 1920, according to figures made public in Sept., 1920, by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. These figures also reveal that about 3,000,000 taxpayers had already paid their income taxes in full. The Bureau's statement shows that 4,000,000 persons were paying income taxes on incomes of $5,000 or less and that fewer than 600,000 of this number had not paid their taxes in full, choosing the alternative method of payment by installments. Individual returns for incomes in excess of $5,000, including those in individuals and firms, numbered 700,000. Approximately half of this number paid all income taxes to the Government in the first two tax installments. Nearly 350,000 corporations filed income tax returns.

BRITISH COAL STRIKE.

The strike of British coal miners began on Oct. 16, 1920, with a walkout of 1,000,000 men. To meet the situation orders were at once issued directing darkening all electric signs and store windows and limiting the use of gas and electricity for power and household consumption. The strike spread to other industries. In North Yorkshire iron works, coke ovens, furnaces and mills closed and in other parts of the country iron works were idle. On Oct. 28 a settlement was arrived at on the basis of an immediate advance of 2 shillings in wages, with a sliding scale to determine future rise or fall according to output.

UNITED STATES RECLAMATION SERVICE.

Arthur P. Davis, Dir., New Interior Bldg., 18th and F. N. W., Washington, D. C. Western Office, Tramway Bldg., Denver, Col. Employees: Washington Office, 100; Western, 5,000 (varies). Expenditures per year about $3,000,000.

The Reclamation Service was organized as a bureau of the Interior Dept., under the Reclamation Act of June 17, 1902. It is engaged in the investigation, construction and operation of irrigation works in the arid and semi-arid States of the West. Thirty projects have been authorized for construction or operation for irrigation of lands in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. These projects aggregate 2,200,000 acres and the major works aid in serving an additional 1,000,000 acres under private canals that generally get stored water from the Government reservoirs. The funds for this work have come chiefly from the sale of public lands; and the money expended is returned to the fund by easy payments of settlers, usually in twenty annual instalments, without interest, in accordance with the Reclamation Extension Act of Aug. 13, 1914.

The Service has built on the 30 projects over 12,000 miles of canals, ditches and drains, including 100,000 canal structures and involving the excavation of 174,000,000 cubics yards of material. In connection with this work there have been constructed 100 storage and diversion dams, with an aggregate volume of 13,-

700,000 cubic yards, including the Arrowrock Dam, highest in the world (349 ft.), the Elephant Butte Dam on the Rio Grande, forming the largest artificial irrigation reservoir in the United States, and the longest roller crest dam in the world, located on the Grand River in Colorado. The Service has built 95 tunnels 983 miles of road, 83 miles of railroad, 3,141 miles of telephone line, a dozen power plants and 651 miles of transmission lines; and is also mining coal and has manufactured 1676,000 barrels of cement and sand cement. The net construction cost to June 30, 1919, was $123,853,000.

Over 150,000 persons are living on the 40,000 farms irrigated by the Service. Of the 2,200,000 acres already reclaimed to, water is now available for 1,800,000 acres, and of this 1,100,000 were harvested in 1919, producing crops worth over $83,000,000, or an average of over $80 per acre. The additional lands using stored water yielded crops worth $50,000,000 more.

Public land farm units on the several projects are opened for settlement from time to time as canals are extended to make irrigation water available. Under present law, soldiers of the World War have a preference right to enter these farms and at recent openings have taken all units.

Information in regard to farms available for settlement may be obtained by addressing Statistician, U. S. Reclamation Service, Dept. of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

THE NEW YORK COMMUNITY TRUST.

The New York Community Trust offers a plan for the utilization of wealth, and for its wise and efficient application to charitable, benevolent or educational purposes. The trustees consist of nineteen New York City Trust Companies and Banks, with Alvin W. Krech, President of the Equitable Trust Company, as Chairman of the Trustees Committee.

Individuals desiring to give during their lifetime or under their will any sum, large or small, to be devoted to charitable, benevolent or educational objects, either definitely specified or without any stated object, may place it in trust with a trust company or bank of their own choosing, provided only it is a member of The New York Community Trust. It will be possible under the Community Trust plan for a donor to leave funds so that the principal of his gift, invested in securities carefully restricted for trust funds, will be kept intact for all time by the responsible agents; provided and acting under the State laws as to investments. Furthermore, that so long as his special charity or philanthropy shall exist, it will receive the income from his gift, and if through unforeseen circumstances or by reason of changes in the social viewpoint or the needs of the community, his charity ceases to exist or no longer serves any large public good, the income will continue to be used for the benefit of other approved purposes, as nearly in line with his desires as possible. The Acting Director is Frank J. Parsons, 55 Cedar st., Mhth.

NEW YORK CITY WATERFRONT DEVELOPMENT

By Murray Hulbert, Commissioner of Docks.

In order to provide wharfage accommodations to meet the constant demands and take advantage of the remarkable opportunities that have fallen to the lot of this nation, the Dock Department of the City of New York is laying down what is probably the most comprehensive plan that has ever been formulated at one time for waterfront development anywhere in the world.

From the Administration of Washington to that of Wilson, less than 3 per cent. of the total appropriation made by Congress for river and harbor improvements was spent in the Port of New York—an aggregate of $20,000,000.

By successive acts of Congress, enacted annually since 1914, the Federal Government stands committed to an appropriation of more than $100,000,000 for modernizing the channels in New York Harbor and its tributaries, and the city will, within the period of the expenditure of this sum, invest two or three times that amount in the construction of wharves and docks and terminal facilities.

Pier Construction.

The 12 large piers planned for the easterly shore of Staten Island, one of which will be maintained as an open pier for transient and miscellaneous wharfage, are rapidly becoming a reality. The last pile in one of these piers has been driven and the other eleven are rapidly approaching completion, and it is expected will be shedded and ready for occupancy before the end of 1921.

A great deal has been said about the lack of cargo handling appliances in the Port of New York.

Three distinct types of piers are being constructed at Staten Island.

Two of the piers are 209 ft. in width, with two-story sheds and aprons on each side, and will be equipped with elevators and all modern cargo handling devices, including a large fleet of industrial trucks, tractors and trailers.

Two piers are 130 ft. in width, with two-story sheds thereon, and will be fitted with cargo masts and cargo and electric winches, operated in connection with the ship's tackle.

The remaining eight piers, built according to the particular wishes of each lessee, are 125 ft. in width, and will also be equipped with cargo masts and electric winches. The completion and operation of these piers will, therefore, be a great test in the solution of the freight handling problem in New York Harbor, through an ideal comparison of the various methods employed as above outlined.

A system of warehouses, with railroad terminal and classification yard, on the upland in the rear of these structures, has been laid out by the Department during 1920 and is now before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for a public hearing and approval.

Reconstruction of Piers for Steamship Wharfage.

With the letting of a contract by the Federal Government for the removal of Shell Reef, extending along the Manhattan side of the East River, from Corlears Hook to Bellevue Hospital, the Department of Docks undertook the reconstruction of piers inaccessible, except for boats of very light draft.

Piers at E. 18th and E. 25th are now completed and shedded and ready for service, while the piers at Stanton, E. 5th and E. 20th have been reconstructed, and the steel sheds are being erected and they will be ready for occupancy on or soon after the first of the year, and work is about to be begun on the pier at the foot of E. 4th and E. 26th.

On the North River, pier at the foot of W. 35th has been reconstructed and before the end of the present year will be ready for use as a steamship pier.

After 40 years of unsuccessful effort, the Department of Docks finally persuaded the Federal Government to grant an extension of the pierhead line between Piers Old No. 1 and No. 7, North River, thereby enabling the Department to erect 3 modern piers in this locality of sufficient length to be commercially economical, and proceedings have been instituted to condemn the property, and it is expected that work of construction will be begun early in 1921.

Consideration is, meanwhile, being given to the building of two additional stories on this shed, to be used for office purposes.

Modernization of the North River.

A lay-out for the modernization of the North River, between Vesey and Perry, was prepared and adopted by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund on July 29, 1920.

18 modern steamship piers of adequate length and width and sufficient slip room between them are proposed in substitution for the 32 narrow and out-of-date existing piers. For many years various plans have been considered for relieving congestion on the marginal street, but the erection of any improvement of a permanent character was prohibited under the provisions of the Charter. The present Dock Commissioner brought about the passage of the Lynch Bill, removing this obstacle, and a plan has been devised for the construction of an elevated roadway along the bulkhead from Riverside Drive to Battery Park, connecting with the piers and with warehouses to be erected over the marginal street, thus affording ample relief not only for the present, but for the future.

Occupation by the Street Cleaning Department of a valuable pier site at Canal has been recognized as an economic waste and a most modern disposal station, erected entirely of steel and concrete, is being constructed under the old Brooklyn Bridge, on the Manhattan side, for the disposal of ashes and other waste material, collected south of Canal.

As soon as this improvement can be completed and put in service, the ramshackle pier at the foot of Canal, North River, will be demolished and a modern pier, 1025 ft. long and 150 ft. wide, the first under the new plan adopted July 29, 1920, will be erected, thus affording a protection to and means of ventilating the vehicular tube.

There is now pending before the Secretary of War an application by the Commissioner of Docks for the extension of the pierhead line from Perry north to 72d, North River, and should it be approved, a comprehensive plan will be prepared and submitted to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund for approval, embracing the remaining commercial waterfront area on the North River side of Manhattan, for constructive improvement.

Bay Ridge Improvement.

Designs for a modern dock terminal in the Bay Ridge district have been completed. The necessary privately owned property has been acquired and the Department of Docks are now waiting the authority and authorization of the necessary funds by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to advertise and let contracts and proceed with the work.

The designs include four steamship piers, with sheds fitted with modern freight handling devices, at least two stories in height, and a connecting warehouse system on the upland.

Particular attention has been given to the architectural features of this terminal because of its proximity to park property. It is hoped that it will be well under way before the end of 1921.

Jamaica Bay.

Construction of a pier, to be utilized for the disposal of street cleaning and other material, has been begun and is expected to be completed on or shortly after the 1st of January, 1921. Congress is expected to authorize the enlargement of the existing project for a 30-ft. channel. The Department of Docks submitted to the Sinking Fund (which approved) and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment plans, estimates and application for authority to advertise and let contract for the construction of a modern terminal, a typical plan for which has been worked out by the Commissioner of Docks and his engineering force, as a result of his visit during the summer of 1920 to Antwerp, Rotterdam, Amsterdam, Hamburg, Marseilles, Bordeaux, Southampton, London, Liverpool and Manchester.

PLAN OF FUTURE RAPID TRANSIT SYSTEM

Plans for extending the rapid transit system of New York City, so that it will accommodate the growth of population for the next twenty-five years, were completed in Sept., 1920, by Daniel L. Turner, chief engineer in the office of John H. Delaney, Transit Construction Commissioner.

The plan provides for 830 miles of single track to be added to the present 616 miles of subway and elevated lines. At pre-war prices the estimated cost of the completed plan is $175,000,000, and at present prices, $350,000,000 exclusive of equipment.

For the twenty-five-year program, based on present-day utilization of tracks and present type of equipment, the proposed additional trunk lines would be able to develop a capacity of approximately 5,000,000,000 passengers per year.

Summary of the Plan.

New Manhattan-All City Lines: An eight-track, double deck trunk line under 8th and Amsterdam avs., only four tracks to be constructed at one time, and so located under the roadway as not to interfere with future construction of another four-line unit; and a trunk line under Madison av., to relieve the Lexington Av. Line.

The Eighth-Amsterdam Av. Trunk Line would be connected with distributing and collecting branches, both at its northern and southern extremities. The northern extremity will be at 155th st., where it is suggested a branch be built to cross the Harlem River and traverse the Bronx through 161st st., Longwood and Randall avs., to the Throgs Neck section. This branch would be connected with a projected Manhattan-Bronx-to-the-Ocean Crosstown Line. Another branch would traverse upper Manhattan via Fort Washington to Spuyten Duyvil, thence via Netherland av., through the Riverdale section.

Below 155th st. the line would be under Amsterdam av., approximately to 103d st., where the existing Lenox Av.-West Farms connection might be taken in. From this point to 86th st. a six-track line is projected. At 86th st. two tracks might come in from Queens via an under-river tunnel. At 57th st. two tracks, possibly those devoted to the Lenox Av.-West Farms connection, might go down 10th av.

Steinway Tunnel Connection.

At 41st st. the Steinway Tunnel Line from Queens would connect with the Eighth Av.-Amsterdam Av. Trunk Line. At 23d st. a line from Bkln. would connect with the trunk service. Below 23d st. the line would be six-track, through 8th av. and Hudson st. At Bedford st., the southern extremity of the trunk line, two tracks would turn to the east, to be later extended into and through B'way, Bkln. At Grand st. two more tracks would continue southward under Hudson and Washington sts. to the Battery, and cross to Bkln. via Governor's Island and Hamilton av. to 3d av., Bkln. This would permit all of the collecting and distributing branches of the southern extremity of the trunk line to enter and traverse Bkln. Borough.

It is explained that this new trunk line would offer the closest possible connection with the Pennsylvania and the New York Central stations and the tubes to New Jersey from all parts of the city.

The principal new line to be provided on the east side of Mhntn. is a proposed Madison Av. Line. This line would begin at the Harlem River as a four-track trunk line, with a possible two-track connection to the Bronx, and extend down Madison av. to 86th st., where two tracks would branch to the east into and through Queens, which, together with the two-track branch from the Eighth Av.-Amsterdam Av. Line on the west side, would constitute a four-track trunk line to Queens.

Six-Track Line Provided For.

From 86th st., south to 23d st., the Madison Av. Line would be a six-track line. At 23d st. one two-track branch would extend down 5th av., Greene and Church sts. to about Chambers st., where eventually the line would turn west under the Hudson River to New Jersey and to Richmond. At Madison av. and 23d st. two tracks would terminate.

The other tracks would extend down 3d av. to about 3d st., where they would turn east and cross the East River to Bkln., connecting with a four-track trunk line in B'way, this trunk line in Bkln. thus being served by an east side two-track connection via Madison av., and a west side two-track connection via the projected Eighth Av. Line.

Another facility tentatively laid down provides for the upper west side of Mhntn. a two-track line from the end of the Interborough Rapid Transit Broadway-Seventh Av. route, up Central Park West, through 8th or 7th av. to the Harlem River. It was said that the effect of such a line would be to immediately relieve the existing west side elevated road by providing superior facilities for the territory east of Morningside Park and north of Central Park. Such a line would pierce territory in part inadequately served from 59th to 155th st.

Brooklyn.

Many petitions have been received by the Transit Construction Commissioner asking for the extension of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Broadway Line from 59th st. to Washington Heights via 8th av. to 116th st. and thence via St. Nicholas av. and B'way to the city's northern limits.

Bkln. is not as prominent as Mhntn. in the scheme of rapid transit extension. But this Borough, like all of the others, received close study with the result that the plan provides for the building of a subway-tunnel connection via Livingston and Washington sts. into Mhntn. to a connection with the two tracks of the B. R. T. Subway which now terminates at City Hall, Mhntn. This two-track subway could temporarily, it is explained, connect with the Fulton St. Elevated Line at or near Ashland pl. Other parts of the proposals to aid Bkln. are:

Another two-track subway and tunnel crossing to Mhntn., starting at Fulton st., Bkln., in the neighborhood of Ashland pl. and routing through State st. and via a tunnel to a connection with the spur provided at the lower end of the Whitehall St. Subway of the New York Municipal Railway. With this new crossing constructed, it probably would be desirable to extend a four-track subway through Fulton st., Bkln., to East New York. This done, the Montague St. Tunnel could be given over to the exclusive use of the Centre St. Loop and Nassau St. Line.

Relief for the Fourth Av. Subway could be provided by a new and direct subway and river tunnel connection into and through Mhntn. for the Culver Line, and a crosstown line through Bkln., connecting the Brighton Beach Line at Franklin av. with the Astoria branch in Queens. Such a line would provide convenient crosstown facilities within a convenient distance of the waterfront in Bkln. and would interest practically all other rapid transit lines in Bkln. and afford a convenient medium of interchange.

The Bronx.

For the central section of lower Bronx a three-track line along Morris av., from the Harlem River to lower Tremont, thence easterly through the congested section adjacent to Crotona Park by way of Tremont av. to Long Island Sound. This line would be in addition to the projected 161st St. Crosstown Line, which will tap the Hunts Point section, with one branch extending through Unionport to Throgs Neck and another by way of Riker's Island to Steinway and through Queens to the Forest Park section of that borough and to East New York.

Extensions of the existing rapid transit lines from the junction of Gun Hill and White Plains rds., along the former highway to Boston rd., and thence northeasterly, and of the Westchester-Pelham Bay Park Line through Williamsbridge rd. to Rodman's Neck, are also laid down.

Queens.

In addition to the connecting and distributing sections of the Eighth Av.-Amsterdam Av. and Madison Av. Trunk Lines to and through Queens, that borough will be brought into direct connection with Bkln. by means of the proposed crosstown line connecting the Brighton Beach Line at Franklin av. and by giving Queens direct access to Coney Island, Flushing and the North Shore will be connected up with the dual system by means of the extension of the Corona Line, jointly operated by the Interborough and B. R. T. Railways.

Richmond.

Richmond will be provided with its first rapid transit facilities by means of tunnels under the Narrows, which will connect with the southern extremity of the existing Fourth Av. Rapid Transit Line. The matter of extending the lines from the tubes under the Narrows, through Staten Island, will be determined by the development of the general city plan for the island.

Many Extensions Contemplated.

Concerning extensions, the proposed improvements suggest for the near future the lengthening of the Corona Branch of the Steinway Tunnel from its present terminal to Main st., Flushing; the extension of the tunnel line from its proposed terminus at 7th av. and 41st st., west through 41st st. to a connection with the proposed Amsterdam-Elighth Av. Trunk Line and a two-track extension of the B. R. T. Subway from 59th st. and 7th av. up Central Park West and 8th or 7th av. to the Harlem River. Other proposed extensions are: nection at B'way and City Hall Park, via Ann st. and the East River to Bkln., and via Brooklyn Bridge terminal property, Washington st., Livingston st., DeKalb av. and Fort Greene pl. to a connection with the Fulton St. Elevated Line at or near Ashland pl.

Extension of the B. R. T. Fourth Av. Subway, Bkln., by way of a two-track tunnel under the Narrows to the Borough of Richmond.

Extension of the Nostrand Av. Subway of the Interborough Company south into and through Coney Island.

Extension of the Astoria Branch of the Steinway Tunnel Line south through Queens and Bkln. to a connection with the Brighton Beach Line in Bkln., thereby providing a Bkln. crosstown line.

Extension of the two tracks of the Interborough-Seventh Av.-Broadway Line, now terminating at the Battery, from a point at Greenwich and Liberty sta., via Liberty st., Maiden lane and the East River to Brooklyn, and thence via Hicks st., Union st., 7th av. and Gravenstein av. to a connection with the Culver Line.

MAYORS OF NEW YORK CITY PRIOR TO CONSOLIDATION.

Up to 1774 the Mayor was appointed by the Governor of the Province, and from 1784 to 1820 by the Appointing Board of the State of New York, of which the Governor was the head. From 1821 to the amendment of the Charter in 1829, the Mayor was appointed by the Common Council. In 1838 the term of the first Mayor of Greater New York began.

B. R. T. STRIKE.

On July 16, 1920, Lindley M. Garrison, as receiver of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit System, offered an increase in wages of 10% over the wage scale on Aug. 1, 1919. On July 23 the Committee of Employees, with whom the receiver had made an agreement under date of Dec. 16, 1919, presented demands for the recognition of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America; for the establishment of a closed shop, and wage increases of more than 50% in some cases. The receiver refused to consider any demands tending towards a closed shop on the property and his position was approved by Judge Julius M. Mayer of the U. S. District Court, who appointed the receiver. The Union Committee thereupon appealed to Mayor Hylan, who designated Transit Construction Comr. John H. Delaney to act as mediator. Comr. Delaney held several conferences with the receiver and with the committee, and on Aug. 23 the committee withdrew from discussion the demands for a closed shop. Negotiations between the receiver and the committee were then started, but came to an end when the committee demanded that the receiver and Judge Mayer agree to unlimited arbitration of all financial questions involved in their demands. Judge Mayer declined to abdicate his duty as a judge, although indicating that he would ratify any arbitration award if it were in the financial ability of the receiver to pay it. The committee again appealed to Mayor Hylan and Comr. Delaney and these officials upheld the Court and the receiver. Comr. Delaney in a public statement on Aug. 27, said:

"If a strike ensues, the responsibility will be on the Union leaders and not on the receiver. There is no justification for a strike now. A strike would be for the purpose of establishing a closed shop and complete Union control and not for wages and hours, which could be settled without a strike. Even should a strike be called, no settlement could prevail beyond the financial ability of the receiver to pay."

The Union held a mass meeting on Saturday night, Aug. 28, at which Mayor Hylan spoke and asked the members to defer the strike for one or two weeks to enable him to effect an amicable adjustment of the matter. Early Sunday morning, after the Mayor had left the meeting, a strike was called and immediately put into effect.

The operation of surface lines was completely suspended as a result of the strike for three days. During that period the company organized and trained a force of strike breakers and surface line operation was resumed on Wednesday, Sept. 1, on a small scale. As the men gradually returned to work, the service on the surface lines was extended and within a month was practically normal again.

The operation of the subway and elevated lines was maintained without interruption throughout the entire strike period, although during the first few days it was materially curtailed. During the early days of the strike the public authorities held various meetings and conferences to endeavor to bring it to an end, but without result.

The police handled the strike situation most effectively and promptly suppressed any and all attempts of violence on the part of the strikers. There was little or no disorder incidental to the strike, the most serious incident being the stoning of a Sea Beach train by strikers, causing the death of a passenger, for which act five of the strikers later admitted their guilt and were sentenced to terms in prison. Another incident of the strike was a collision between two surface cars on the Flatbush Av. Line at the Willink Entrance of Prospect Park, resulting in the death of one passenger.

OLD LONG ISLAND MAP.

What is probably the oldest map of the North Shore section of Long Island, including the Flushing and Hempstead sections, in existence, was recently found by George F. Swenson of Flushing while searching among some Colonial records. The title of the map is "A platt of ye sitication of the turns and places on ye westerly end of Long Island to Hempstead." The map was drawn by Col. Hubbard on July 3, 1666, more than two centuries and a half ago. The shore is marked out into much the same divisions as at present. Flushing Bay is found as "Flushing Bay," while Little Neck Bay was known as "Math Gar Bay." One of the most interesting features of the map is the drawing of a tiny house on the "rever" (now Flushing Creek), which is marked as "Mr. Coes mill house." The building is still standing on the same location, which is now part of Corona.

Rocky Hill road is designated as "Roodwale to Hempstead," while Jamaica ave., which is the artery connecting Flushing with Jamaica, is simply marked "Roode." "Whitstone roode," on the map, has now disappeared, but it is thought that it was the road which formerly ran from Flushing to Whitestone, and from there to College Point along the shore of Powell's Cove.

HISTORY OF THE STRUGGLE FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Colonial Period—Under several Colonial governments women voted.

At the time of American Revolution—Women demanded to be included in Government. Abigail Adams wrote to her husband, John Adams: "If women are not represented in this new republic, there will be another revolution."

In 1848—Woman's Rights Convention at Seneca Falls, N. Y., arranged by Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the first big suffrage demonstration in this country.

From 1848 to Civil War—Efforts made to have State laws altered to include women. Susan B. Anthony became a leader in the movement for political freedom during this period.

At the close of Civil War—Suffragists attempted to secure an interpretation of the 14th and 15th Amendments that would permit women to vote.

In 1872—Miss Anthony made the test of voting at the polls. She was arrested, refused to pay her fine, but was never jailed.

In 1875—Miss Anthony drafted the Woman Suffrage Amendment, which reads: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex."

In 1878—The amendment introduced in Senate by Senator Sargent of California.

State campaigns—Side by side with the effort to secure Federal action, the State campaigns begun in 1848 were continued. Miss Anthony always advocated securing suffrage by Federal action and protested against the necessity of laborious State campaigns. By the end of 1912 women had won the right to vote in 9 States: Wyoming (1869); Colorado, Utah and Idaho (1894); Washington (1910); California (1911), and Kansas, Arizona and Oregon (1912). In 1913 the women of Illinois won State and Presidential suffrage. In 1914 the women of Montana and Nevada were enfranchised. In 1917 the women of New York, in 1918 the women of Oklahoma, South Dakota and Michigan obtained full suffrage, and in 1919 Iowa, Tenn., Wis., Ind., Maine, Minn. and Mo. granted Presidential suffrage.

When the National Woman's Party, then called the Congressional Union, was organized in 1913 to concentrate on a campaign for Federal amendment, no action or even debate on the Federal Amendment had taken place in Congress since 1887. Politicians were opposed and political party platforms silent about the amendment. Within seven years every political party had included in its platform an equal suffrage plank. President Wilson had publicly appealed for the passage of the amendment as "a vitally necessary war measure," and the amendment had been passed by both houses of Congress and ratified by 36 States.

SUGAR EXPORTATION.

In 1914 the United States exported 195,205 tons of granulated sugar; in 1915, 481,787 tons; in 1916, 788,325 tons; in 1917, 505,397 tons; in 1918, 208,615 tons, and in 1919, 737,949 tons. During the years 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918 and 1919 a great portion of the sugar listed as exportation was sugar bought by the British Government from the planters and shipped to the United States to be refined on a toll basis. This sugar, therefore, cannot be classed as American owned or traded sugar. This sugar was owned and bought by England and France.

CALIFORNIA IRRIGATION PROJECT.

One of the greatest engineering projects ever attempted in this country was launched when the California Realtors were in annual session at Los Angeles recently. The plan involves an expenditure of $500,000,000. More than 12,000,000 acres of land in California will be supplied with needed water, and lands that today are lying idle will soon be brought into production. This water will be supplied by two giant canals approximately 700 miles long, running the length of the State, connecting ten rivers and including a series of sub-canals that will give the State a complete irrigation system.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

COVENANT.

The high contracting parties, in order to promote international co-operation and to achieve international peace and security—by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war; by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations; by the firm establishment of the understandings of international law as the actual rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of justice and a scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized peoples with one another—agree to this Covenant of the League of Nations.

ARTICLE 1. (Membership.)

The original members of the League of Nations shall be those of the signatories which are named in the Annex to this Covenant and also such of those other States named in the Annex as shall accede without reservation to this Covenant. Such accession shall be effected by a declaration deposited with the Secretariat within two months of the coming into force of the Covenant. Notice thereof shall be sent to all other members of the League.

Any fully self-governing State, Dominion or Colony not named in the Annex may become a member of the League if its admission is agreed to by two-thirds of the Assembly, provided that it shall give effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations, and shall accept such regulations as may be prescribed by the League in regard to its military, naval and air forces and armaments.

Any member of the League may, after two years' notice of its intention so to do, withdraw from the League, provided that all its international obligations and all its obligations under this Covenant shall have been fulfilled at the time of its withdrawal.

ARTICLE 2. (Executive and Administration Machinery.)

The action of the League under this Covenant shall be effected through the instrumentality of an Assembly and of a Council, with a permanent Secretariat.

ARTICLE 3. (The Assembly.)

The Assembly shall consist of representatives of the members of the League.

The Assembly shall meet at stated intervals and from time to time as occasion may require at the seat of the League or at such other place as may be decided upon.

The Assembly may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world.

At meetings of the Assembly each member of the League shall have one vote, and may have not more than three representatives.

ARTICLE 4. (The Council.)

The Council shall consist of representatives of the principal Allied and Associated Powers, together with the representatives of four other members of the League. These four members of the League shall be selected by the Assembly from time to time in its discretion. Until the appointment of the representatives of the four members of the League first selected by the Assembly, representatives of Belgium, Brazil, Spain and Greece shall be members of the Council.

With the approval of the majority of the Assembly, the Council may name additional members of the League whose representatives shall always be members of the Council; the Council with like approval may increase the number of members of the League to be selected by the Assembly for representation on the Council.

The Council shall meet from time to time as occasion may require, and at least once a year, at the seat of the League, or at such other place as may be decided upon.

The Council may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world.

Any member of the League not represented on the Council shall be invited to send a representative to sit as a member at any meeting of the Council during the consideration of matters specifically affecting the interests of that member of the League.

At meetings of the Council, each member of the League represented on the Council shall have one vote, and may have not more than one representative.

ARTICLE 5. (Decision by Unanimity or Majority; Initial Meetings.)

Except where otherwise expressly provided in this Covenant or by the terms of the present Treaty, decisions at any meeting of the Assembly or of the Council shall require the agreement of all the members of the League represented at the meeting.

All matters of procedure at meetings of the Assembly or of the Council, including the appointment of committees to investigate particular matters, shall be regulated by the Assembly or by the Council and may be decided by a majority of the members of the League represented at the meeting.

The first meeting of the Assembly and the first meeting of the Council shall be summoned by the President of the United States of America.

ARTICLE 6. (The Secretariat.)

The permanent Secretariat shall be established at the seat of the League. The Secretariat shall comprise a Secretary General and such secretaries and staff as may be required.

The first Secretary General shall be the person named in the Annex; thereafter the Secretary General shall be appointed by the Council with the approval of the majority of the Assembly.

The secretaries and staff of the Secretariat shall be appointed by the Secretary General with the approval of the Council.

The Secretary General shall act in that capacity at all meetings of the Assembly and of the Council.

The expenses of the Secretariat shall be borne by the members of the League in accordance with the apportionment of the expenses of the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union.

ARTICLE 7. (League Capital; Status of Officials and Property; Sex Equality.)

The seat of the League is established at Geneva.

The Council may at any time decide that the seat of the League shall be established elsewhere.

All positions under or in connection with the League, including the Secretariat, shall be open equally to men and women.

Representatives of the members of the League and officials of the League when engaged on the business of the League shall enjoy diplomatic privileges and immunities.

The buildings and other property occupied by the League or its officials or by representatives attending its meetings shall be inviolable.

ARTICLE 8. (Disarmament.)

The members of the League recognize that the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations.

The Council, taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each State, shall formulate plans for such reduction for the consideration and action of the several governments.

Such plans shall be subject to reconsideration and revision at least every ten years.

After these plans shall have been adopted by the several governments, the limits of armaments therein fixed shall not be exceeded without the concurrence of the Council.

The members of the League agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war is open to grave objections. The Council shall advise how the evil effects attendant upon such manufacture can be prevented, due regard being had to the necessities of those members of the League which are not able to manufacture the munitions and implements of war necessary for their safety.

The members of the League undertake to interchange full and frank information as to the scale of their armaments, their military, naval and air programs and the condition of such of their industries as are adaptable to warlike purposes.

ARTICLE 9.
(Disarmament Commission.)

A permanent commission shall be constituted to advise the Council on the execution of the provisions of Articles 1 and 8 and on military, naval and air questions generally.

ARTICLE 10.
(Territorial and Political Guarantees.)

The members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the League. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression the Council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.

ARTICLE 11.
(Joint Action to Prevent War.)

Any war or threat of war, whether immediately affecting any of the members of the League or not, is hereby declared a matter of concern to the whole League, and the League shall take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of the nations. In case any such emergency should arise the Secretary General shall on the request of any member of the League forthwith summon a meeting of the Council.

It is also declared to be the friendly right of each member of the League to bring to the attention of the Assembly or of the Council any circumstances whatever affecting international relations which threaten to disturb international peace or the good understanding between nations upon which peace depends.

ARTICLE 12.
(Postponement of War.)

The members of the League agree that if there should arise between them any dispute likely to lead to a rupture, they will submit the matter either to arbitration or to inquiry by the Council, and they agree in no case to resort to war until three months after the award by the arbitrators or the report of the Council. In any case under this article the award of the arbitrators shall be made within a reasonable time, and the report of the Council shall be made within six months after the submission of the dispute.

ARTICLE 13.
(Arbitration of Justifiable Matters.)

The members of the League agree that whenever any dispute shall arise between them which they recognize to be suitable for submission to arbitration and which cannot be satisfactorily settled by diplomacy, they will submit the whole subject-matter to arbitration.

Disputes as to the interpretation of a treaty, as to any question of international law, as to the existence of any fact which if established would constitute a breach of any international obligation, or as to the extent and nature of the reparation to be made for any such breach, are declared to be among those which are generally suitable for submission to arbitration.

For the consideration of any such dispute the court or arbitration to which the case is referred shall be the court agreed on by the parties to the dispute or stipulated in any convention existing between them.

The members of the League agree that they will carry out in full good faith any award that may be rendered, and that they will not resort to war against a member of the League which complies therewith. In the event of any failure to carry out such an award, the Council shall propose what steps should be taken to give effect thereto.

ARTICLE 14.
(Permanent Court of International Justice.)

The Council shall formulate and submit to the members of the League for adoption plans for the establishment of a Permanent Court of International Justice. The court shall be competent to hear and determine any dispute of an international character which the parties thereto submit to it. The court may also give an advisory opinion upon and dispute or question referred to it by the Council or by the Assembly.

ARTICLE 15.

(Settlement of Disputes by Council or Assembly; Exclusion of Domestic Questions.)

If there should arise between members of the League any dispute likely to lead to a rupture, which is not submitted to arbitration in accordance with Article 13, the members of the League agree that they will submit the matter to the Council. Any party to the dispute may effect such submission by giving notice of the existence of the dispute to the Secretary General, who will make all necessary arrangements for a full investigation and consideration thereof.

For this purpose the parties to the dispute will communicate to the Secretary General, as promptly as possible, statements of their case with all the relevant facts and papers, and the Council may forthwith direct the publication thereof.

The Council shall endeavor to effect a settlement of the dispute, and if such efforts are successful, a statement shall be made public giving such facts and explanations regarding the dispute and the terms of settlement thereof as the Council may deem appropriate.

If the dispute is not thus settled, the Council either unanimously or by a majority vote shall make and publish a report containing a statement of the facts of the dispute and the recommendations which are deemed just and proper in regard thereto.

Any member of the League represented on the Council may make public a statement of the facts of the dispute and of its conclusions regarding the same.

If a report by the Council is unanimously agreed to by the members thereof other than the representatives of one or more of the parties to the dispute, the members of the League agree that they will not go to war with any party to the dispute which complies with the recommendations of the report.

If the Council fails to reach a report which is unanimously agreed to by the members thereof, other than the representatives of one or more of the parties to the dispute, the members of the League reserve to themselves the right to take such action as they shall consider necessary for the maintenance of right and justice.

If the dispute between the parties is claimed by one of them, and is found by the Council, to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the Council shall so report, and shall make no recommendation as to its settlement.

The Council may in any case under this article refer the dispute to the Assembly. The dispute shall be so referred at the request of either party to the dispute, provided that such request be made within fourteen days after the submission of the dispute to the Council.

In any case referred to the Assembly, all provisions of this article and of Article 12 relating to the action and powers of the Council shall apply to the action and powers of the Assembly, provided that a report made by the Assembly, if concurred in by the representatives of those members of the League represented on the Council and a majority of the other members of the League, exclusive in each case of the representatives of the parties to the dispute, shall have the same force as a report by the Council concurred in by all the members thereof other than the representatives of one or more of the parties to the dispute.

ARTICLE 16.
(Sanctions.)

Should any members of the League resort to war in disregard of its covenants under Articles 12, 13 or 15, it shall ipso facto be deemed to have committed an act of war against all other members of the League, which hereby undertake immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant-breaking State, and the prevention of all financial, commercial or personal intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking State and the nationals of any other State, whether a member of the League or not.

It shall be the duty of the Council in such case to recommend to the several governments concerned what effective military, naval or air force the members of the League shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenants of the League.

The members of the League agree, further, that they will mutually support one another in the financial and economical measures which are taken under this article, in order to minimize the loss and inconvenience resulting from the above measures, and that they will mutually support one another in resisting any special measures aimed at one of their number by the covenant-breaking State, and that they will take the necessary steps to afford passage through their territory to the forces of any of the members of the League which are co-operating to protect the covenants of the League.

Any member of the League which has violated any covenant of the League may be declared to be no longer a member of the League by a vote of the Council concurred in by the representatives of all the other members of the League represented thereon.

ARTICLE 17.

(Disputes of Non-Members.)

In the event of a dispute between a member of the League and a State which is not a member of the League, or between States not members of the League, the State or States not members of the League shall be invited to accept the obligations of membership in the League for the purposes of such dispute, upon such conditions as the Council may deem just. If such invitation is accepted, the provisions of Articles 12 to 16 inclusive shall be applied with such modifications as may be deemed necessary by the Council.

Upon such invitation being given the Council shall immediately institute an inquiry into the circumstances of the dispute and recommend such action as may seem best and most effectual in the circumstances.

If a State so invited shall refuse to accept the obligations of membership in the League for the purposes of such dispute and shall resort to war against a member of the League, the provisions of Article 16 shall be applicable as against the State taking such action.

If both parties to the dispute when so invited refuse to accept the obligations of membership in the League for the purposes of such dispute, the Council may take such measures and make such recommendations as will prevent hostilities and will result in the settlement of disputes.

ARTICLE 18.

(Registration of International Engagements.)

Every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any member of the League shall be forthwith registered with the Secretariat and shall as soon as possible be published by it. No such treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered.

ARTICLE 19.

(Revision of Former Treaties.)

The Assembly may from time to time advise the reconsideration by members of the League of treaties which have become inapplicable and the consideration of international conditions whose continuance might endanger the peace of the world.

ARTICLE 20.

(Abrogation of Understandings Not Consistent With the Covenant.)

The members of the League severally agree that this Covenant is accepted as abrogating all obligations or understandings inter se which are inconsistent with the terms thereof, and solemnly undertake that they will not hereafter enter into any engagement inconsistent with the terms thereof.

In case any member of the League shall, before becoming a member of the League, have undertaken any obligations inconsistent with the terms of this Covenant, it shall be the duty of such members to take immediate steps to procure its release from such obligations.

ARTICLE 21.

(The Monroe Doctrine.)

Nothing in this Covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace.

ARTICLE 22.

(Mandatory Tutelage of Colonies and Backward Races.)

To those colonies and territories which as a consequence of the late war have ceased to be under the sovereignty of the States which formerly governed them and which are inhabited by peoples not yet able to stand by themselves under the strenuous conditions of the modern world, there should be applied the principle that the well being and development of such peoples form a sacred trust of civilization and that securities for the performance of this trust should be embodied in this Covenant.

The best method of giving practical effect to this principle is that the tutelage of such peoples should be entrusted to advanced nations who by reason of their resources, their experience or their geographical position can best undertake this responsibility, and who are willing to accept it, and that this tutelage should be exercised by them as Mandatories on behalf of the League.

The character of the mandate must differ according to the stage of the development of the people, the geographical situation of the territory, its economic conditions and other similar circumstances.

Certain communities formerly belonging to the Turkish Empire have reached a stage of development where their existence as independent nations can be provisionally recognized subject to the rendering of administrative advice and assistance by a Mandatory until such time as they are able to stand alone. The wishes of these communities must be a principal consideration in the selection of the Mandatory.

Other peoples, especially those of Central Africa, are at such a stage that the Mandatory must be responsible for the administration of the territory under conditions which will guarantee freedom of conscience and religion, subject only to the maintenance of public order and morals, the prohibition of abuses such as the slave trade, the arms traffic and the liquor traffic, and the prevention of the establishment of fortifications or military and naval bases and of military training of the natives for other than police purposes and the defence of territory, and will also secure equal opportunities for the trade and commerce of other members of the League.

There are territories, such as Southwest Africa and certain of the South Pacific Islands, which, owing to the sparseness of their population, or their small size, or their remoteness from the centers of civilization, or their geographical contiguity to the territory of the Mandatory, and other circumstances, can be best administered under the laws of the Mandatory as integral portions of its territory, subject to the safeguards above mentioned in the interests of the indigenous population.

In every case of mandate the Mandatory shall render to the Council an annual report in reference to the territory committed to its charge.

The degree of authority, control or administration to be exercised by the Mandatory shall, if not previously agreed upon by the members of the League, be explicitly defined in each case by the Council.

A permanent commission shall be constituted to receive and examine the annual reports of the Mandatories and to advise the Council on all matters relating to the observance of the mandates.

ARTICLE 23.

(Humanitarian Provisions; Freedom of Transit.)

Subject to and in accordance with the provisions of international conventions existing or hereafter to be agreed upon, the members of the League:

- (a) will endeavor to secure and maintain fair and human conditions of labor for men, women and children, both in their own countries and in all countries to which their commercial and industrial relations extend, and for that purpose will establish and maintain the necessary international organizations.
- (b) undertake to secure just treatment of the native inhabitants of territories under their control;
- (c) will entrust the League with the general supervision over the execution of agreements with regard to the traffic in women and children, and the traffic in opium and other dangerous drugs;

- (d) will entrust the League with the general supervision of the trade in arms and ammunition with the countries in which the control of this traffic is necessary in the common interest;
- (e) will make provision to secure and maintain freedom of communications and of transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of all members of the League. In this connection, the special necessities of the regions devastated during the war of 1914-1918 shall be borne in mind;
- (f) will endeavor to take steps in matters of international concern for the prevention and control of disease.

ARTICLE 24.

(Control of International Bureaus and Commissions.)

There shall be placed under the direction of the League all international bureaus already established by general treaties if the parties to such treaties consent. All such international bureaus and all commissions for the regulation of matters of international interest hereafter constituted shall be placed under the direction of the League.

In all matters of international interest which are regulated by general conventions but which are not placed under the control of international bureaus or commissions, the Secretariat of the League shall, subject to the consent of the Council and if desired by the parties, collect and distribute all relevant information and shall render any other assistance which may be necessary or desirable.

The Council may include as part of the expenses of the Secretariat the expenses of any bureau or commission which is placed under the direction of the League.

ARTICLE 25.

(The Red Cross and International Sanitation.)

The members of the League agree to encourage and promote the establishment and co-operation of duly authorized voluntary national Red Cross organizations having as purposes the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world.

ARTICLE 26.

(Amendments of the Covenant; Right of Dissent.)

Amendments to this Covenant will take effect when ratified by members of the League whose representatives compose the Council and by a majority of the members of the League whose representatives compose the Assembly.

No such amendment shall bind any member of the League which signifies its dissent therefrom, but in that case it shall cease to be a member of the League.

THE LEAGUE.

The first action of the League of Nations was the International Labor Commission called by President Wilson, which met at Washington, Oct. 29, to Nov. 29, 1919. The Conference created an International Labor Organization and recommended a code of international labor laws. The second Conference of the Labor Organization was held at Genoa, June 15 to July 10, 1920, to consider the working day for sailors.

On Jan. 16, 1920, the Council of the League held its first meeting in Paris. The following countries were represented: British Empire, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Brazil, Spain and Greece. Ten other Council meetings have since been held; the 2d, at London, Feb. 11th to 13th; 3d, at Paris, March 13th; 4th, at Paris, April 9th to 11th; 5th, at Rome, May 14th to 19th;

6th, at London, June 14th to 16th; 7th, at London, July 9th to 12th; 8th, at San Sebastian, July 29th to Aug. 5th; 9th, at Paris, Sept. 16th to 20th; 10th, at Brussels, Oct. 20th to 28th, and the 11th, at Geneva, on and after Nov. 14th, coincident with the meeting of the Assembly. Among the work undertaken by the Council has been the calling together of the Jurists Advisory Committee at the Hague; the International Communications and Transport Commission; the Armaments Commission at San Sebastian; and the Financial Conference at Brussels. The Council has assumed jurisdiction in the Aaland Islands dispute between Sweden and Finland, with the result that those nations accepted the League as a mediator. Poland and Lithuania also agreed to accept the mediation of the League with regard to Vilna. The Council was required to make an important decision as to Switzerland. This country wished to have her military neutrality and the inviolability of her territory recognized as consistent with her membership in the League. The Council decided that the perpetual neutrality of Switzerland was in the interests of general peace, and therefore compatible with the Covenant. Under the supervision of the Council, the work of Dr. Nansen in the repatriation of prisoners of war had resulted, up to Oct. 31, 1920, in enabling 166,000 prisoners to return to their homes.

The first meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations convened at Geneva, Switzerland, the permanent headquarters of the League, on Nov. 15, 1920. M. Paul Hymans of Belgium was chosen as President of the Assembly. There were 241 delegates in all, representing forty-one nations, including twenty-eight original members and thirteen invited members of the League. The original members attending were: Australia, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, France, Great Britain, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, India, Italy, Japan, Jugo-Slavia, Liberia, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Roumania, Siam, South Africa, Uruguay. The invited members: Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela. China refused to sign the Treaty of Versailles, but became an original member of the League by signing the treaty with Austria at St. Germain July 16, 1920. The United States, Ecuador and Honduras were not represented at the opening of the Assembly, not having fled ratifications. The Secretary General announced, Dec. 2, 1920, that Nicaragua and Honduras had ratified the treaty and were therefore members of the League.

The following are among the general or specific acts of the Assembly:

Six new States were admitted to membership. Austria on Dec. 15; Bulgaria, Costa Rica, Finland and Luxembourg on Dec. 16, and Albania on Dec. 17. China was elected to the Council in place of Greece.

The applications of some of the smaller Baltic States were denied, because the Assembly did not wish to commit itself to a guaranty of the existing boundaries of those States, under Article X of the Covenant.

A statute was adopted for the establishment of an International Court of Justice in accordance with the plan drawn by the Jurists Advisory Committee, with an amendment eliminating compulsory jurisdiction and subject to ratification by a majority of the members of the League. For text of draft scheme for Court of International Justice see page 320.

An International Blockade Commission was created to study the use of the League's economic weapon, but each nation must be free to decide for itself whether there has been a breach of the Covenant.

The Assembly requested the Council to ask member States to consider an agreement that armament expenditures for two years, 1922 and 1923, should not exceed similar expenditures for 1921.

Bureaus were established to deal with economic questions and international credits.

THE FINANCIAL YEAR, 1920.

The year 1920 will be remembered as the year of deflation—attempted deflation of credit, deflation of securities and deflation of commodities.

The great declines in prices of securities and commodities were the aftermath of the war-period inflation. Time and again the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board during the industrial boom of 1919, built as it was on scarcity of goods and high prices, referred to conditions as a "fool's paradise."

The year 1920 witnessed the readjustment. It began with the Federal Reserve Board's restrictions on borrowings for speculative purposes. It went forward with the word from the Federal Reserve Board that bank loans must be for essential purposes.

Stock market loans, being, so far as they were made on securities held for speculative purposes, non-essential loans, were under restriction as long ago as November, 1919. From that time on stocks declined with more or less frequent interruption clear into December of the following year.

The war, with its enormous demands for production and its enormous profits to industry, had been attended by great speculation in industrial shares, while bonds and railroad shares declined. The year 1920, with its readjustment from the war conditions to peace conditions, saw many industrial stocks fall to pre-war levels as business fell off. Following are a few samples of the declines in industrial shares on the New York stock market during the year from January to December:

August:

Declines in cotton and wheat and other commodities get under way.

September:

October:

Declines in commodity prices continue.

November:

Stocks, cotton and wheat decline to low levels of year.
Southern Pacific announces segregation of oil properties.

December:

New low levels reached in stock market.

The year 1919 ended with forewarning of financial stress in the year 1920. Call money at the end of 1919 was up to 25 percent and the New York Federal Reserve Bank's ratio of reserves at the beginning of 1920 was down to 38.5 percent, compared with 46.5 percent a year previous. Things had got to the point where the banking system of the country had over-expanded its credit, the banks being passively encouraged in this by the ability to rediscount their loans at the Federal Reserve Banks at less cost than they were charging borrowers. One of the first things the Federal Reserve Board proceeded to do, therefore, was to take the profit out of rediscounting by member banks.

Wall Street was first called upon to do its part in the way of liquidation of loans. Wall Street loans on stock market collateral in July, 1919, had stood at an estimated $1,750,000,000. Throughout the year these loans were gradually and continually reduced until in December, 1920, they were estimated to stand at but $700,000,000.

This reduction in the loan account, of course, meant selling of securities, and this in turn meant falling prices. The months in which stock market declines were most pronounced were January and February, April and May and November and December.

But the process of deflation was not confined to stocks. It was applied to commodities. The Federal Reserve policy of "essential loans" only made it necessary for speculation in commodities to cease, and there were witnessed heavy declines in silk, rubber, hides and leather, sugar and finally cotton, wheat, corn and other grains.

The commodities that were in greater supply and less demand sustained the most severe declines. Silk, for instance, was one of the first commodities to feel the effects of reduced demand on the part of the consumer; at the same time the silk industry had expanded to the point of almost unlimited production. Raw silk (Sinhui No. 1) fell from $17.40 a pound in January to approximately $5 by summer. There had been heavy speculation in hides and some grades of this commodity fell during the year about to pre-war levels. Wool was similarly affected by large supplies, and at the end of the year the world's stocks of wool on hand, estimated to be two years' supply, was a world-wide problem.

In the grain markets, wheat had a spectacular fall during the latter part of the year, with surplus production in the United States, Canada, the Argentine and Australia. The world shortage of goods that was exploited at the beginning of the year as a reason and an excuse for high prices was met, in many lines, and, as it turned out, there was a limit to demand, since there was a limit to purchasing power the world over.

The declines in prices of leading commodities is shown in the following figures:

	High 1920	Low 1920
Wheat, per bu.....	$3.25	$1.79
Corn, per bu.....	2.31%	.94%
Coffee, per lb.....	.16%	.06%
Sugar, per lb., gran.....	.23	.08
Iron, ton.....	53.51	36.50
Lead, lb.....	.08%	.04%
Copper, lb.....	.19%	.12%
Cotton, lb.....	.43%	.15%
Print cloths.....	.16	.05%
Silk (Shinshu No. 1).....	17.40	5.40
Rubber.....	.53%	.17

Bradstreet's index number of commodity prices showed a drop from the peak on Feb. 1, 1920, of 35 percent to December, 1920. The index number of the Federal Reserve Bank, figured on twelve important basic commodities, showed a drop of about 36 percent from the middle of May to the middle of November, 1920.

The rise in the price of refined sugar to 26 cents wholesale and its subsequent decline to 8 cents was an example of extreme change during the equilibrium of supply and demand. The year started with a so-called world shortage of sugar put at about 3,000,000 tons. Fear of absolute scarcity led to buying beyond immediate necessity on the part of refiners, manufacturers of goods of sugar content, wholesalers, retailers and consumers. Sugar at retail at 36 cents a pound was not uncommon. The whole world sent its sugar here to get advantage of the high prices, the Far East gave up its supply to the United States and shipments to Europe were turned back to this country. The result was that there came to be an oversupply at the high prices. Sugar that had been stored away against possible famine came out from its hiding places and the decline in price continued over the entire latter half of the year.

In nearly all lines it was a case of supply overtaking demand at high prices. Expansion of credit had given purchasing power to raise the price; uneven distribution of wealth restricted purchasing power of large numbers of consumers, restricted buying began to be felt in the markets and the necessity of payment of loans at the banks gave impetus to the price reaction. And in the meantime production of goods to meet the "world shortage" increased.

The decline in prices of agricultural products—of cotton, wheat, corn and other grains—was so drastic as to bring appeals for relief from the West and South. Cotton, wheat and corn, said the farmers, were bringing in the fall far less than cost of production. The Federal Reserve Board was appealed to without avail for credit to permit the farmers to hold back their goods. The West essayed a "strike," in refusing to market their wheat and corn at the low prices. Wheat came flowing over the border from Canada and the American farmer turned to Congress in December for tariff protection.

Estimates put of the shrinkage in the value of farm products from 1919 to 1920 at $5,000,000,000—the figure of the Department of Agriculture. Following are the leading crops and the department's estimates of quantity and value in December, 1919 and 1920. Our corn, tobacco and rice crops were the greatest in the history of the country:

Restricted buying on the part of Europe was unquestionably an important factor in reducing purchases of manufactured goods here. In some lines the recovery of European industry made far lessened demand for American goods. In other cases inability to buy what with depreciated currency and adverse exchange operated to restrict our exports. The tendency has been for loss of exports of manufactured goods to be made up in part by exports of raw materials and foodstuffs, and accordingly the total export figures have not shown a sensational fall during the year. Following are the exports and imports of the United States during the twelve months ended November, 1920:

	Exports	Imports
Dec., 1919.....	$681,415,999	$380,710,323

The problem of financing our export trade was one of the great problems of the year 1920, although definite action to organize machinery for financing our foreign trade was not taken until near the end of the year. In December, under the direction of the American Bankers Association, a meeting of bankers and business men was held at Chicago at which a Foreign Trade Finance Corporation was formed under the Edge Act for the purpose of extending credit to foreign purchasers of American goods. The corporation is to have a capital of $100,000,000 and will be empowered to issue its debentures to American investors, at the same time taking foreign securities in return for goods shipped abroad. It will be possible to finance foreign trade thus to the extent of $1,000,000,000. Since the armistice there accumulated on the hands of the banks, of manufacturers and of business men generally unfunded foreign loans for goods purchased in America amounting to a sum estimated from $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000.

BETELGEUSE A GIANT STAR.

The result of the measurement of Alpha Orionis or Betelgeuse, the northernmost star of the constellation Orion, by Professor Michelson's device for measuring the diameter of stars, shows that its diameter is 260,000,000 miles, or three hundred times that of the Sun. Compared with the sun in volume, it is 27,000,000 times as great. The distance of Betelgeuse from the earth is 150 "light years." That is, the light that strikes the eye started on its journey from the star 150 years ago, traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second.

More than 2,000 women are enrolled as students in the University of Pennsylvania.

BASEBALL.

Brooklyn won the National League baseball pennant in 1920, as it did in 1916, and it again lost the World Series when it was beaten in five out seven games by the Cleveland Americans champions. Cleveland won the first of three games scheduled in Brooklyn, and Brooklyn won the next two. Moving to Cleveland, the American League champions won four straight games and the championship of the world. In 1916 Brooklyn lost four out of five games to the Boston American League champions of that year.

Baseball conditions were much upset in the last two months of the 1920 season by the exposure of the alleged fact that when the Chicago White Sox, champions of the American League, lost five out of eight games to the Cincinnati National League champions in the World Series of 1919, eight of the White Sox had been bribed by a coterie of gamblers to "throw" the series. The eight accused players have since been indicted by the Cook County (Chicago), Ill., Grand Jury, but there is considerable doubt whether they technically violated the criminal laws.

As a consequence of the serious dissensions in the American League, in which the New York, Chicago and Boston clubs were lined up against the other five in a fight upon Pres. Ban E. Johnson, there was a movement to consolidate the three American League "insurgents" with the eight National League clubs, and one other, in a revival of the old 12-club circuit, with two clubs in many cities. The matter was finally compromised by the appointment of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ill., since 1905, as a one-man arbiter of professional baseball, to take the place of the three-man National Commission. Judge Landis will retain his position on the U. S. Bench, at a salary of $7,500, and Organized Baseball will pay him $42,500 per year, bringing his total salary to $50,000 per year.

BOXING.

The Walker Law, permitting 15-round decision bouts, re-established boxing in New York State. The Boxing Commission consists of J. Johnson, W. G. Hooke and E. W. Dittmas, with C. A. White as secretary. License Committee—L. McGuire, D. W. Wear and C. E. Walsh, with J. F. Hoey, secretary.

The visit of Georges Carpentier to America stirred up interest in the sport. His only fight in this country was with Battling Levinsky, whom he knocked out in the 4th round, at Jersey City. Carpentier is matched to fight Jack Dempsey for the world's championship next summer.

Jimmy Wilde, the English flyweight, who was outpointed by Young Jack Sharkey in his first bout in America, on Dec. 4, 1919, fought a number of battles in America during 1920 and was unbeaten.

Two titles changed hands. Johnny Wilson of Boston won the middleweight championship from Mike O'Dowd by a referee's decision in 12 rounds at Boston. Joe Lynch of New York wrestled the bantamweight title from Pete Herman by referee's decision in a 15-round bout at Madison Sq. Garden.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP—Dr. E. Lasker, Berlin, title-holder for 26 years, announced his abdication in favor of J. R. Capablanca of Havana, his challenger. Later, an agreement was reached to play a match of 24 games for a purse of $20,000, in Havana, during Jan. and Feb. next.

Like all other pastimes, chess has felt the effect of the unprecedented post-war tendency of all manner of entertainments, sport activities and the like to grip the fancy of the public at large. This state of affairs has been accentuated to a considerable extent by the presence in this country of Samuel Rzeschewski, the child prodigy from Poland, who, at the time this article was prepared, had given three public exhibitions of his skill, playing a total of 60 games, of which he won 51, drew 7 and lost 2. The past year was also noteworthy because of the negotiations for a world's championship match between Dr. E. Lasker of Berlin and J. R. Capablanca of Havana, which, it is hoped, may take place in Havana during the early part of 1921. For the first time since the outbreak of the war an international tournament, participated in by a representative field of continental players, was held in Goteborg, Sweden, and a comparative newcomer, R. Reti, a native Czechoslovakia, carried off chief honors. A masters' tournament at Atlantic City, N. J., won by Marshall, the U. S. champion, and the Western championship at Memphis, Tenn., won by Edward Lasker of Chicago, were the outstanding features of American chess activities for the past year.

GOLF.

The season of 1920 proved to be the most important in the history of American golf. Not only did Americans compete in the British and French championships, but Britishers took part in the American championships, both open and amateur. While an American, Robert A. Gardner, was runner-up in the British amateur, the British champion, Tolley, failed to qualify in the American amateur, his two traveling companions, Lord Charles Hope and Roger H. Wethered, meeting the same fate. But a Scotch amateur, T. D. Armour, qualified and lasted till the third round. In the U. S. open Ed Ray, the English pro, proved the winner.

In the British open Walter Hager, the American open champion, made a poor showing, but redeemed himself by capturing the French open, defeating the British champion, Duncan, and Abe Mitchell, the British pro-champion.

No British women competed in America, but a delegation of fair Americans "invaded" Great Britain and France, but met with no success. However, Miss Alexa Stirling, the American champion, was successful in her invasion of Canada, as she captured the Dominion championship.

One of the outstanding features of the season was the American visit of Harry Vardon and Ed Ray, the British pros, who played a number of exhibition matches. In addition to Ray's winning the U. S. title, Vardon, though 50 years old, finished in a tie for second place. The results of their trip appear in totals below.

In the three national championships of the U. S. Golf Association only one new figure is found, that of Ray. Evans repeating his victory of 1916 in the amateur and Miss Stirling retaining her laurels. However, the national professional champion, Jack Hutchison, is new, as is the intercollegiate title-holder, Jess Sweetser.

Apart from the actual play the season was made memorable also by the visit of the American rules committee to Great Britain to confer over changes in the code and the standardization of the ball. A significant phase of the closing weeks of the season was the coming to the front of the great Lido seaside course at Long Beach, L. I., which Open Champion Ray called altogether the finest course in this country and which he thought should be the scene of the 1921 open championship. The record of the more important 1920 competitions follows.

He not only was the best 3-year-old of the season, but beat Sir Barton, the champion 4-year-old. He was hailed as the "super-horse," the champion of champions. He beat Sir Barton in a special race for $75,000 in gold and a gold cup worth $5,000—the most valuable prize ever offered for a race in America or Europe.

NECROLOGY.

The first great player to be taken by death from the ranks of American-bred golfers passed away in the year in the person of Frederick Herreshoff, the amateur, who died in New York City on March 23. In 1910 Herreshoff won the Metropolitan championship, defeating J. D. Travers in the final, and in 1909 and 1916 he was the runner-up. His fame, however, was based on the fact that in the final of the 1911 National Amateur championship at Apawamis he carried Herold H. Hilton, the former British open and amateur champion, to the 37th hole, after being 6 down, going to the 24th hole.

Another great golfer to succumb was George Simpson of Chicago, former amateur champion of Scotland, but later a professional. Other pros to die in the year were Jack Blair of Nashua, N. H., and George J. Bouse of Richmond, Va. Edward J. Rowe, former president of the Wykagyl Country Club, also passed away.

1920 OLYMPIC GAMES.

The complete summaries of the seventh Olympic games, held last summer in Antwerp, show that United States participants were victorious in the track and field events, shooting, rowing and swimming. Several world records were registered by wearers of the American shield. There were also new Olympic records accredited to the U. S. representatives. Frank Foss, the former Cornell pole vaulter, competing for the United States team, vaulted for a height of 13 ft. 5 1-3 inches, which doubtless was the greatest performance of the games. Frank Loomis, one of the Chicago A. A.'s colorbearers, covered the 400 meters hurdles event in the fast time of 54 seconds, thereby creating a world record. Among other great performances was that of R. W. Landon, winning the high jump with a mark of 1:94 meters, a new Olympic record.

Earl Thompson, although a student of Dartmouth, but representing his place of nativity, Canada, hung up a world record for the 119 hurdles by covering these timbers in 14.4-5 seconds. Harold E. Barron, a product of West Philadelphia High School and wearing the insignia of the Meadowbrook Club of that city, was upon Thompson's heels when the record was smashed.

C. T. Osborne, wearing the United States colors, won the individual shooting honors with army rifle at 300 meters standing. His score was 56 out of 60. United States won the team shoot in the combined 300 and 600-meter event with 572.

In the boxing bouts there was more or less dissatisfaction in the results. Uncle Sam's experts, however, took their defeats gracefully and finished in the matter of points only one behind Great Britain. The catch-as-catch-can wrestling bouts went to the United States with 9½ points.

John B. Kelly not only beat the world's best single scullers, but, with Paul Costello in his boat, won the double sculls, Kelly's achievement being recorded as one of the greatest of all in the entire Olympic history.

The unknown polu's only rival in honor was a nameless British private, who, on the same day, was borne through the streets of London, with King George of England as his chief mourner, to be buried in Westminster Abbey.

THE SECRET OF A GOOD COMPLEXION

It goes without saying, that the pretty woman—the woman with a Perfect Complexion—always draws a prize—the prize. She cannot help it. For she is charming, attractive, magnetic, and altogether irresistible.

Now, there is no earthly reason why every normal woman should not have a clear, rosy, transparent Complexion and Skin, and "every woman" includes You.

Ask your mirror "Is my complexion as good as it should be?" Most complexions are not.

There is only one way it can be perfected to satisfy and gratify you. Only one preparation safely, surely and quickly beautifies the face and skin.
